Rev. Mr. Wilkins Assigned to Trinity Church

Methodist Conference Makes Only One Change in Kingston Church—Rev. Mr. Moser Transferred to New York—Dr. Grinton Again Superintendent.

Bishop Wilson has handed down the following conference appointments at the M. E. Conference in session at Calvary Church, New York city:

The Rev. George W. Grinton reappointed district superintendent of the Kingston district for the sixth consecutive year.

The Rev. J. Wilbur Tetley returned to St. James M. E. Church.

The Rev. R. W. Greenwell returned to Clinton Avenue M. E. Church.

The Rev. Alfred W. Wilkins of Catskill succeeds the Rev. W. H. Moser as pastor of Trinity M. E. Church. Mr. Moser has been transferred to the 18th Street M. E. Church, New York city.

Dr. Hough Houston, a former pastor of St. James M. E. Church and also a former district superintendent of the Kingston district, has been transferred from Cleveland, Ohio, to the Metropolitan Temple in New York city.

Anti-Billboard Drive Explained

By Mrs. Lawton, Chairman of National Committee, At St. John's Parish House.

Mrs. W. L. Lawton, chairman of the national committee for the restriction of outdoor advertising, delivered an address at St. John's parish house this afternoon, under the auspices of the Ulster Garden Club, in part as follows:

The present movement to restrict outdoor advertising had its origin in Glens Falls a year ago. The Glens Falls Women's Club, aroused by the depredations of the billboards on the scenic Lake George highway, decided that if the advertiser could be convinced that the public resented the boards, he would cease to use them.

The Glens Falls women tried out their principle in a local campaign. They won the cooperation of the leading merchants of their city with the result that over 40 boards were taken down and over 100 new boards which had been ordered for this season were given up.

A state campaign was then started by the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs and the movement was endorsed by the National Federation.

Four months ago an independent national committee for restriction of outdoor advertising was formed, open to all organizations interested in the problem. There are now 38 organizations cooperating through this national committee. Twelve of these are national organizations. The work is taken up by men as well as by women.

The aim of the national committee is not to abolish billboards but to restrict them to commercial locations, where they will not injure scenic or civic beauty. The committee takes the ground that there should be no signboards in the country, and if used in the towns and cities they should not be erected adjacent to boulevards, parks, public buildings and residence sections.

The only weapon used in this campaign is that of public opinion. The committee endeavors to draw out an expression of public opinion on signboard advertising, and also—and this is the vital step—to carry this expression directly to the advertiser.

So general is the feeling against the present use of the boards and so glad are the people to have this opportunity of protesting, the letters to the advertisers are pouring forth at the rate of 1,000 per week, with the volume steadily increasing. These letters are not intended as a persecution or a burden in any sense. They are intended solely as a demonstration of public opinion. The letters are coming from all over the country, from Florida to Main and from New York to Texas and California.

Already 15 national advertisers have endorsed the stand taken by the committee and have agreed to confine their boards to commercial locations, due allowance being made for present contracts not yet expired.

Recent endorsers are the Standard Oil Co. of California, which is now taking down 1,200 large boards in Washington, Oregon, Nevada, Arizona and California. The Standard Oil Co. of New York, operating in New York and the New England States, has also endorsed the movement and will use signs only at the filling stations and garages.

The following organizations are cooperating with the national committee for the restriction of outdoor advertising, Mrs. Lawton said:

American Civic Association, National Highway Association, Garden Club of America, General Federation of Women's Clubs, Adirondack Mountain Club, American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society, American Federation of Arts, National Academy of Design, National Society of Women Painters and Sculptors, National Garden Association, Massachusetts Civic League, N. Y. State Association of Real Estate Boards, N. Y. State Automobile Association, N. Y. State League of Women Voters, N. Y. State Home Bureau, Federated Women's Clubs of New York, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Texas, Florida, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Virginia, Society of Farm Women of Pennsylvania, Citizens' Union of New York city, City Club of New York, Fine Arts Federation of New York, Municipal Art Society, New York Water Color Club, League to Protect Riverside Park, Sorosis, Federated Garden Clubs of Long Island, Long Island Federation of Women's Clubs, Halifax Country Garden Clubs, Florida, Philadelphia Congress of Art (45 organizations), Florida Development Board (State Chamber of Commerce).

Steamer Tremper In a Collision

On First Trip of Season She Collided With Stern of the Poughkeepsie in Rondout Creek—Accident Caused by Heavy Current in Creek.

The steamer Jacob H. Tremper of the Central-Hudson line on her first trip of the season from Newburgh to Albany met with a mishap this noon while winding about in the Rondout creek when she crashed broadside into the stern of the steamer Poughkeepsie of the same line, which was berthed at the Central-Hudson line dock discharging freight. The house on the Tremper just forward of the paddle box was crushed in like an egg shell.

The accident was caused by the heavy current flowing in the creek. The Tremper had thrown a line to shore which was used in helping the boat to wind about in the creek and draw into the dock to discharge and receive passengers and freight. The current was so strong that the steamer was carried into the stern of the Poughkeepsie which was not damaged by the impact as her hull is of steel.

The accident to the deck house of the Tremper did not, however, interfere with her making the trip to Albany.

Man, Long Dead, Found in Creek

Little Except Skeleton Brought Up by Fisherman's Net—May Have Been Worker on Rifton Dam.

While Daniel Harvey of 144 Spring street was fishing with a net in the Rondout creek at Eddyville about 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon something became caught in the net which on being brought to the surface proved to be the body of a man in a badly decomposed condition. From the condition of the body it had evidently been in the water for a long time. The clothing was completely rotted away and the flesh was so badly decomposed that what little remained clinging to the bones was of no use in making identification. The hair was gone, the scalp had disappeared and nothing remained but the skull. Some flesh remained about the chest, being just enough to hold the ribs in place.

At first the fishermen thought their net had become entangled with the floating corpse of some animal and when they discovered it was the remains of a human body they towed it to shore and notified Coroner Conner who took the remains to his undertaking parlors on Fair street where he made a thorough investigation for marks of identity. An examination of the teeth showed that none had been filled and three were missing.

From the condition of the body it is impossible to tell how long it had been in the water except that it was a long time, at least during warm weather.

The body was located a short distance from the point where the old D. & H. canal empties into the Rondout creek.

About a year ago one of the men employed on the construction job at Rifton was seen walking across the ice and it was reported that the ice gave way and he fell into the creek. Whether he succeeded in reaching shore or whether the body found at Eddyville Monday is the body of that man is impossible to tell. The body found was so badly decomposed that identification is impossible.

The body will be buried today under the direction of Coroner Conner.

CURRENT OFFERINGS AT THE THEATERS.

At the Keeney Theater this evening the photoplay, "Under the Red Robe," will again be shown. The story by Stanley Weyman tells of an historical romance of France in the time of Louis XIII and Cardinal Richelieu. Heading the all-star cast in this production are Robert B. Mantell, John Charles Thomas and Alma Rubens.

At the Opera House tonight the same vaudeville program that pleased large attendances on Monday will be repeated. The feature photoplay is "Radio Mania."

Orpheum patrons are thoroughly enjoying the vaudeville that is being presented for the first half of this week. "Don't Call It Love" is the picture. It is a William de Mille production and a late Paramount picture of 1924. The cast includes Agnes Ayers, Jack Holt, Nita Naldi and Theodore Kosloff.

At the Auditorium tonight J. Warren Kerrigan, Alice Calhoun, Wanda Hawley and Pat O'Malley in "The Man From Brodney's." A rich, warm romance of Indian Seas—breathing the pungent fragrance of the Orient—mysterious, inexplicable. The story of a young American, tangled in court intrigue, put to the supreme test to save the girl he loves—a princess of royal blood.

KINGSTON STORES ARE BETTER STORES. TRY THEM.

"2-2-2" Committee is on the Job of Making Spring Opening a Success

Sounds Like a General Alarm and it is Just That for Kingston Retailers Who are Putting on a Big Show Wednesday Evening Under Lead of Kingston Merchants' Association.

After a dinner at the Advance restaurant Monday night the new Kingston Merchants' Association held a spirited, enthusiastic and interesting meeting, principally devoted to final steps toward making the Spring Opening display on Wednesday evening of this week a success. Store windows will be dressed on Wednesday and simultaneously unveiled at 8 o'clock in the evening, when it will not cost you a cent to see what Kingston's snappy retail merchants can do when they set out to give the public a free show. No stores will be open that evening, but next day they will be wide open to welcome customers and visitors, and Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be featured as Spring Opening Days.

Every business house in the city is invited to join in this event and it is expected that most of them will do so. To speed things up a "2-2-2" committee was appointed to make a personal, whirlwind canvass of the retail merchants today and induce them to get in the parade and from reports received this morning, they are meeting with almost unanimous support. It should be explained that a "2-2-2" committee is a committee composed of the two men from uptown, two from downtown and two from the West Shore business section.

The "2-2-2" method, invented by M. H. Herzog, made such a hit that it was decided, on motion of W. H. Rudderham, to have a "2-2-2" committee to urge attendance at the next monthly meeting of the association and sell tickets to anybody in the retail line.

Louis Stock was elected a director in place of William M. Davis, who wrote that while he was a warm supporter of the association, he was unable to serve as a director.

The matter of employing a paid executive at a good salary was discussed and it was decided to find a man and give him a trial. Charles B. Everett offering to form a group of 10 or 15 men to underwrite any deficit that might be incurred.

Charles Warren offered a resolution that all who had either paid their dues or would pay them this week stand up and they stood up. Mr. Warren being the first on his feet.

It was decided to have a bus committee, which will be named later.

Sam Bernstein, Jr., chairman of the board of directors, presided and the various discussions were participated in by W. H. Rudderham, Vincent a Gorman, C. E. Wonderly, M. H. Herzog, William Dugan, William Byrne, James Byrne, Everett Vigues, David Kantrowitz, Charles A. Warren, William O'Reily, C. B. Everett, Edgar N. Palen, Raymond E. Craft and others. All the speeches were brief and to the point and the meeting closed at 8:30. There were 30 men present.

County Court Is Convened

Arraignments in Three Criminal Cases and Jurors are Excused Until April 14.

The April term of county court convened Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the court house with County Judge Joseph M. Fowler presiding. There is no grand jury in attendance at this term of court. Fourteen cases appear on the calendar.

At the conclusion of the call of the calendar District Attorney Traver announced that there were a number of criminal cases to be disposed of at this term of court and 35 additional jurors were ordered drawn. They will report Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

William Collins, who was recently brought back to Kingston from Dannemora prison where he had been serving time and from where he was turned over to the local authorities upon his discharge, was arraigned on a charge of burglary, third degree, alleged to have been committed in the town of Lloyd on June 24, 1920. He entered a plea of not guilty.

John W. Vaughn of Rosendale, who was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of having a concealed revolver upon his person, entered a plea of guilty when arraigned and was fined $50 by the court. The fine was paid. Vaughan it is alleged had a gun in his possession on January 29, 1924, when he drove several people from a pond in the town of Rosendale. He was not represented by a lawyer.

Jesse Weeks, indicted for driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, was arraigned and entered a plea of not guilty to the crime charged. His case was adjourned over until Monday afternoon, April 14, at 2 o'clock.

District Attorney Traver announced that he would be ready in the cases on the criminal calendar when they were reached next week. The first case on the calendar is The People vs. Gohl, a charge of murder second degree. Gohl it is alleged killed Mrs. Burke at New Paltz.

The following jurors were excused by the court when they presented legal excuses:

Stephen Gorsline of Rochester was reported dead. Harry W. Harrison of Kingston and Patrick Manion of Marlborough were reported ill and Henry B. Monges of Lloyd was reported out of the county and not served.

The jurors were excused until Monday, April 14, at 2 o'clock.

FERRY TRANSPORT TO BE OVERHAULED FOR SEASON

The ferry Transport will be taken off the route between this city and Rhinecliff and overhauled for the summer season. Her place on the route will be taken by the ferryboat Brickerhoff which arrived in Rondout creek on Monday. Due to the high water in the creek the Brickerhoff was not used that day or this morning, but will likely be placed on the route later today.

When Fire Alarm Strikes Three

There Will Be No Fire but Lots of Light in the Windows of Kingston's Retail Stores Wednesday Evening at 8 o'Clock.

Arrangements have been made with Mayor Block and Chief Chipp of the fire department for the fire alarm to strike three at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening as the signal for the curtains that have concealed the Spring Opening window displays in Kingston retail stores to be removed, so that Kingston people and visitors from out of town may view the free show.

Eddyville Road Is Again Open

As is Also Highway to Rosendale—Slide Partly Cleared at Big Indian—Busses Running.

The heavy showers of Sunday flooded the road at Eddyville on Monday and as a result it was necessary for all traffic to detour over the Rondout Creek Bridge. At the height of the flood on Monday a big touring car attempted to ford the road and the water rose so high it killed the engine and the occupants were marooned. A truck sent to the assistance of the car was unable to get to it and also unable to throw a towing line to the occupants. After sitting in solitary splendor for a while the occupants—or rather the male members of the auto party—jumped overboard and shoved the car to dry land. Today the flood had subsided and the road was again open to traffic.

The landslide at Big Indian was cleared up sufficiently Monday evening and the Pine Hill-Kingston auto passenger busses are running through as usual on schedule time. Monday they made connection from Kingston to a bus on the other side of the slide in transferring passengers.

At Rosendale, when the Rondout creek overflowed its banks the lower end of Main street, through the village, was under water to a depth of from four to five feet, and all traffic to and from Kingston to Rosendale over the state road had to detour by way of Binnewater.

Fortunately there were but few houses in that section of Main street that were built on a level with the street, and whose cellars were flooded. The majority of the houses are built on an elevation and the waters did not rise high enough to flood the cellars.

Today the water had gone down and the road was again open to traffic. No damage by water was reported from the village.

FERRYBOAT MENANTIC OFF FOR WILMINGTON, N. C.

The ferryboat Menantic, which has been sold by the Saugerties-Tivoli Ferry Company to the city commission of Wilmington, N. C., sailed from Hiltebrant's shipyard on the Rondout creek on Monday for Staten Island where she will be inspected before she leaves for Wilmington. The ferry was in charge of Captain Leroy Snyder and Engineer Tournier.

Rondout Creek Subsiding.

The heavy fall of rain on Sunday raised the waters in the Rondout creek to a considerable extent and overflowed the docks along the upper creek. Today the waters had subsided to about normal.

Extra Panel of Jurors Drawn

Below are the 35 persons whose names were drawn Monday afternoon in county court to serve as jurors in an extra panel, they to report on Monday, April 14, at 2 p. m., at the adjourned session of county court.

TRAFFIC COPS MIGHT LEARN COURTESY, HE SAYS.

Editor, The Freeman:

The notice in your issue of yesterday to the effect that charges had been preferred against a patrolman for alleged use of abusive language while making an arrest for a minor violation of the traffic regulations suggests that these charges should have more than passing consideration from the board of police commissioners and if the charges are sustained the officer in question should be severely reprimanded. Motorists are entitled to courtesy and the flow of language which some slight infraction of the highway law calls forth from the average bluecoat is fitting for a hardened thug and is not relished by those who drive, who, for the most part, respect the law. Good manners in driving are the subject of much discussion by the auto clubs in every locality and traffic policemen might likewise learn something from these campaigns.

FAIR PLAY.

BAR MITZWAH PARTY; $10 FOR HEBREW SCHOOL

On Sunday evening, April the 6th, Mr. and Mrs. Goldforte of 348 Washington avenue, gave a confirmation party for their relatives and friends, on the occasion of their son, Saul Goldforte, becoming 13 years of age, and, in accordance with Jewish custom, assuming new religious responsibilities. After supper had been served the boy delivered an oration, explaining the meaning of Bar Mitzwah, his grandfather from New York addressing to him some kindly fatherly advice. Rabbi S. Goldforte from the uptown Hebrew school read a paper on the value of moral and religious education for children. At the suggestion and appeal of J. Sobsey to all present $40 was collected for the uptown Hebrew school.

4-Minute Session Of County Court

Two Arraigned—Probable Agreement in Washburn Bros. Eviction Actions Against Tenants.

Eighty-eight men each waited fifty-eight minutes for a four-minute session of the Ulster county court at the court house this morning.

Court, which had been adjourned until ten o'clock, convened at 10:58 o'clock and adjourned at 11:02 o'clock.

During the four minute session, the business transacted was as follows:

District Attorney Traver arraigned Irving Snow and Emmett McCarthy, against whom sealed indictments were handed up by the last grand jury, on a charge of unlawfully entering a building in the town of Saugerties on January 18. Through their attorney, Chris J. Flanagan, they pleaded not guilty, and Mr. Flanagan's motion for ten days in which to move to dismiss the indictment or to make other motions was granted. Bail in each case was fixed at $500.

Surrogate George F. Kaufman, attorney for the Washburn Brothers Company, Inc., stated that a stipulation had been entered on the record in the case of the Washburn Brothers Company against Frank Gallietta and in the cases against thirteen other tenants, whereby a final order will be entered dispossessing such tenants, and by further stipulation the time for the execution of the warrant of dispossession is extended for ten days to April 18; that the stipulation had been put on the record by Mr. Flanagan, attorney for the tenants, and if any tenant was dissatisfied, the Washburn Brothers Company was ready for immediate trial.

At 11:02 o'clock, court took a recess until next Monday afternoon at two o'clock.

Brinckerhoff Ran Afoul of Piles

The heavy current in the Rondout creek on Monday afternoon caused the ferryboat Brinckerhoff to run hard and fast on the landing piles at the entrance to the berth of the ferry on Ferry street. The Brinckerhoff was brought here Monday to take the place of the ferry Transport, which is to be overhauled.

On the first trip over to this side that afternoon as the Brinckerhoff was entering the berth the fast flowing current caught her and hauled her against the wall of heavy piles on the land side of the berth, causing the ferry to crash against them. As she struck the line of piles they bent shoreward and she ran up on them until she was fast.

A hurry call was sent to the Cornell Line and several tugs were sent to the assistance of the ferry and hauled her off into deep water. As she was hauled off the piling sprang back into an upright position again. An examination disclosed that the hull of the ferryboat was not damaged.

Alexander Sturgeon, the dock builder, was summoned and started a crew at work to strengthen the line of piling. Two new piles were driven in place to replace two that had been snapped off close to the edge of the water. Only temporary repairs were made to the wall of piles which will later be further strengthened and repaired.

Owing to the accident the Brinckerhoff was hauled off the route and trips resumed by the Transport which continued running today. It is expected that the Brinckerhoff will start running again Wednesday.

W. D. CUNNINGHAM WILL DEFEND MRS. LITT

William D. Cunningham of Ellenville, former judge of the court of claims and at one time district attorney of Ulster county, will defend Mrs. Esther Litt of Brooklyn when she comes to trial at Catskill this month for the murder of her seven year old nephew, Howard Rothenberg, at Windham last August.

With the trial of Mrs. Litt, her sister, Mrs. Charles E. Rothenberg, mother of the murdered boy, and Bert Brananghan but a few weeks away, Catskill is still keenly interested by the murder in the quiet of the Catskill mountains last summer.

In announcing his decision to act as attorney for Mrs. Litt, Judge Cunningham said last night:

"It is true I will defend Mrs. Litt. I consider it a great privilege to do so. There come occasions in the career of every active trial lawyer when he is called upon to serve the highest ends of justice regardless of considerations of personal gain."

The Rothenberg family is in involuntary bankruptcy and according to Judge Cunningham's own statement the Litts have no money. The Brananghs, however, are considered among the wealthiest families in the countryside. Bert Brananghan's attorney is Frank Osborn, who has been in conference with Judge Cunningham several times in the last few days.

Benedictine Auxiliary Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. C. L. Gannon, 77 Green street. All members requested to be present at matters concerning the coming Benedictine ball will be discussed.

Boy Scouts to Handle Traffic At City Schools

At Meeting Held Monday at City Hall Attended by 250 Boy Scouts and City and School Officials Final Plans Were Made and System Will be Put in Operation Shortly.

Kingston's Boy Scouts will serve as traffic officers in the vicinity of all of the schools in the city and Monday evening an enthusiastic meeting was held at the city hall attended by two hundred and fifty Boy Scouts and their captains, and city and school officials when final plans were made and the system will be inaugurated shortly.

Among those present at the meeting were Mayor Block, Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, Superintendent of Schools M. J. Michael, Principal Van Ingen of the high school; Principals Cullen, Miner, Garrison, Coons and Van Valkenburgh of the city schools; Secretary Coe of the Chamber of Commerce; Scout Executive Nesslage; and the Rev. Dr. Nelson of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. All of the Boy Scout troops were represented at the meeting, with their captains.

Brief talks outlining the work expected were made by those present and the Scouts were given full instructions as how to carry on the traffic work. Final plans were made for handling traffic and a universal system of signals will be adopted at all of the schools so as not to cause confusion to motorists.

As far as possible Boy Scouts will be assigned to traffic duty at the schools they attend. The principal danger points will be selected by the school principals who are familiar with the situation at their schools. The Boy Scout organization, however, will assign the Scouts to their posts.

The plan has been worked out tentatively at some of the schools by the Boy Scouts handling traffic and will be started at all of the schools shortly.

Reparations Report Soon

Dawes and McKenna Committees to Present Their Schemes for Germany's Restoration Wednesday.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, April 8.—The International reparation's experts who have devised an elaborate plan to restore German finances have made important changes in their figures in the past 24 hours, it was learned from an authoritative source today.

The first and second committees, headed respectively by General Charles Gates Dawes, of Chicago, and Reginald McKenna, of London, will deliver their reports to the Inter-Allied reparations commission at the Hotel Astoria tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, 4 a. m. New York time.)

The first, or Dawes committee, held its final meeting today to correct the proofs of the report. The members are correcting the report page by page.

After intensive labors since January the committee men believe they have outlined a plan which will enable Germany to balance her budget, restore normal economic life and resume indemnity payments.

It is understood the reports will not fix the total amount of indemnity Germany should pay. Valuable suggestions for the German budget are outlined in detail.

The proposed gold bank of issue would be utilized as a clearing house through which reparations payments would be made to the reparations commission. With the reports in the hands of the reparations commission the work of the Dawes and McKenna committees will be at an end.

Divorce for Daphne Grimm.

Justice Hasbrouck has granted an interlocutory judgment of divorce in favor of Daphne Grimm of Woodstock against William H. Grimm. The custody of the child of said marriage is awarded to the mother, and the defendant is directed to pay $125 per month toward the support of the plaintiff and child. The acts charged in the plaintiff's complaint were alleged to have taken place in Germany and in New York city. Frederic J. Gillette is attorney for the plaintiff.

Injured at Perth Amboy.

Harvey E. Roosa, who has been working in Perth Amboy as a steam fitter for the past few months, met with a very serious accident on Thursday last when the scaffold on which he was working broke. He fell about forty feet and received a broken wrist, rubs and leg. He is in a very serious condition at the Perth Amboy Hospital, where he will remain for a long time before his complete recovery.

Poincare Protests.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, April 8.—Premier Poincare, on behalf of the government universities and French scientists, cabled today to George Tchitcherin, commissar for foreign affairs in the Russian government, protesting against the trials of alleged anti-Bolshevist plotters at Kiev and asking that the death penalty not be imposed upon the university professors among the defendants.

SPRINGTIME TALK

Mistress Springtime had been around for some time now. She had had quite a beautiful time. She did enjoy herself so much!

"Told Me of a Little Girl."

"Do you know," she said one day to Billie Brownie, "I had a little chat with Winter as I came along.

"I kept saying to him,

"'Now I must be going.'

"And then you know he would tell me some more interesting news and I would stay a little longer.

"The time just hurried along. You know how it is? If you are having a good time you can't bear to leave and the time passes by so quickly.

"He told me of the beautiful evergreen trees and of the snow all about and of the lovely dark green and white pictures they made between them. He said it was so beautiful!

"And he told me of the patches of ice in a river which began to break up during the warm days—when they heard I'd soon be along so he said—and how the sea gulls sat upon these patches of ice and went for river rides!

"He told me too of the suet and the bread crumbs and bits of apple and grain which boys and girls had put around for the downy woodpeckers, nuthatches and chickadees who had stayed about all winter.

"He said it meant so much to the birds to be helped in this way.

"He told me it was just as though people went to a place where they could find hardly anything to eat but where the ones who had lived there for years had goodies stored away and shared these goodies with the new comers.

"Then he told me of a little girl who had picked some pussy willows just as I was about to arrive. She had put them in some water in the house. And they knew about blossoming out-of-doors and still wanted to do the same, and so the pussy willows became feathery and lovely and on some of the twigs she had picked little green leaves appeared.

"He chatted and he chatted and every once in awhile there would be a little pause in the conversation and I would say,

"'I really must be hurrying on.'

"Then he would tell me more of his news.

"But at last I really said I had to be leaving and so along I came and so here I am!

"As I came the little crocus flowers peeped up above the earth, and said,

"'Hello, dear Mistress Springtime.'

"And oh, Billie Brownie, you have no idea how wonderful it is to have that first greeting coming out of the earth where there is not another sign of anything green and where everything looks so dismal.

"The crocus family just made me feel I was so glad I had come after all, for at first I was thinking of Winter's interesting talk and almost wishing I hadn't hurried along.

"Some of them were picked and sent to some one who had no spring flowers but they had already greeted me and I was glad they were to greet some one else.

"They kept fresh, too, to greet others.

"Then the green buds all began to burst open to greet me and the yellow forsythia, and the dogwood and all of the other lovely blossoms.

She Had Put Them In Some Water.

"And now it seems as though it were almost a race—as though Summer had entered into the race, too, and though she were trying to catch up to me.

"She is pretty far behind just now but she's moving very quickly, and Billie Brownie, I wouldn't be surprised if before long she did catch up with me.

"She has a way of doing that, you know!"

Not Working for Fun

A small boy was scrubbing the front porch of his home when a visitor called.

"Is your mother in?" asked the visitor.

"Do you think I'd be scrubbing the porch if she wasn't?" replied the boy.

Vengeance

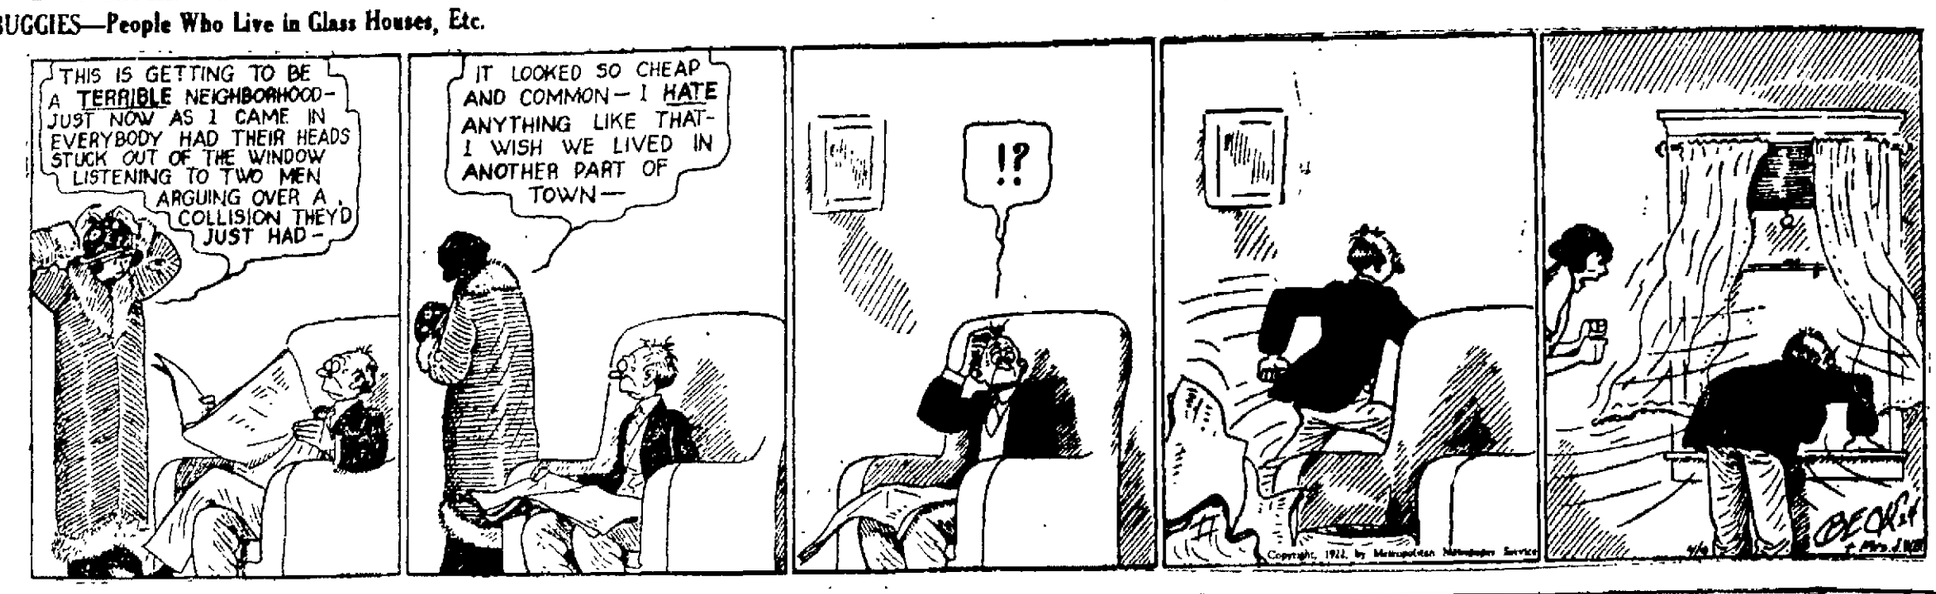

"When I'm a man—" began Robbie, after a stormy interview with his father.

"What will you do?" asked his mother.

"I'll name my boy after papa—and oh! how I'll spank him!"

DINNER DISHES

With a healthy body, a mind at ease, a simple dinner will always please.

Timbales of Chicken.—Take one half cupful of cream, the whites of four eggs, one half tablespoonful of truffles finely chopped, two cupfuls of cooked white meat of chicken, with salt and pepper to taste. Chop the cooked white meat very fine and pound it to a smooth paste. Add the cream gradually, when well mixed, season and add the truffles. Then add one at a time the unbeaten whites of two eggs, mixing the first with the paste until it has disappeared before adding the second. Beat the remaining whites to a stiff froth and stir them carefully into the mixture. Fill greased timbale molds half full of the mixture, place in a pan of water to the height of the mixture in the mold. Bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with mushroom sauce.

Hungarian Goulash.—Put three tablespoonfuls of fat fried from salt pork in a frying pan with a sliced peeled onion; cook until brown. Remove the onion and put in a pound of veal cut into small pieces. Stir and cook until the meat is seared and lightly browned, then place in a casserole. Add a pint of broth, a teaspoonful of paprika, put on the cover and bake. Brown in hot fat a dozen small potato balls and the same number of onions. As soon as the onions are well-browned add the vegetables to the casserole after the meat has cooked an hour. Season with salt and add two tablespoonfuls of flour mixed with cold water. Cook about two hours in all.

Spanish Cream.—Dissolve one tablespoonful of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of water, then add to one-half cupful of scalded milk. Scald two cupfuls of milk in a double boiler, beat two eggs and add one-third of a cupful of sugar and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt; gradually add the hot milk, return to the double boiler and cook until slightly thickened; add the gelatin mixture, the flavoring, and two egg whites beaten stiff, folded in lightly. Turn at once into a mold and the cream will settle into three layers. Serve with sugar and cream or sugared strawberries.

ALLIGERVILLE

Alligerville, April 7.—On April 4th, a business place, known to many in the past from its intimate connections with hundreds of boatmen, plying between Rondout and Honesdale, Pa., and also to those living in the community and surrounding neighborhood, changed ownership, when Harvey B. DeWitt, the last proprietor, handed over the business, which had been his father's to Harry Maltz of Brooklyn, N. Y. In March, 1863, Matthew J. DeWitt established a business on the site of the present store. There under his capable management the business grew very rapidly and soon he enlarged his store and built a hay barn. In 1873, Simon J. Roosa, now living in New Paltz, was taken in as a partner, and remained until he was called to take charge of his father's farm, the firm then being known as DeWitt & Roosa. In 1876 Mr. DeWitt purchased the coal business of W. H. & J. Haraden, which he carried on until his death in February, 1886. Harvey B. DeWitt then took charge of the business and since that time has conducted it in such a manner as to warrant the respect and admiration of all. For his honesty and integrity have been to him qualities of manhood and not merely possible ideals. Mr. DeWitt has retired to his new home on the south side of the Rondout creek, where he hopes to make up in enjoyment of life what he may have lost by 48 years close association with business.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

ON WHAT WOMEN SHOULD KNOW ABOUT MONEY

"When you are as old as I am," said Aunt Emmy to her niece Molly, "I hope there won't be so many widows like Mrs. Strong losing every cent through ill advised investments and having to take any sort of a job to keep body and soul together."

"Why not, Aunty?" inquired Molly. "Widows and orphans have always been victimized."

"They don't need to be," replied Aunt Emmy. "Every day better investment advice is open to women. Now-a-days the banks make their depositors feel that they can go to them with their financial problems. The more women have to do with banks the wiser they become about the disposition of their money. In time women will know enough to look carefully into every investment before they venture, and to question any promises to pay more than a reasonable return. It takes an experienced financier to judge if investment is safe. Women as a rule do not understand the tragedies that lurk around money. They love nice things and naturally want them so they are often led into foolish investments and speculations because they seek to gratify their wishes quickly. The so-called 'sure thing' that pays enormous dividends is usually sure loss.

"Don't think, Molly, that I mean that women should not seek to get the most out of their money. They should. But the way to get the most is to keep it safe. They should seek advice. Properly and conservatively invested at six per cent and the interest re-invested each year, money will actually double itself in twelve years. If you take $5,000 and lay it away it will be only $5,000 to the end of time. If you put it into an ill advised investment—it might all be lost over-night. But if you get good advice and put it to work in a good investment it will be $10,000 in a dozen years."

"I don't think I ever realized so clearly before that women ought to know more about money—I thought it was only for men," said Molly.

"Women are often left on their own resources," said Aunt Emmy. "If they talked with their banks more there would be fewer Mrs. Strongs."—ANNE B. AYMES.

Coffey Loses To Wiegand

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Buffalo, April 8.—Art Wiegand defeated Vince Coffey of Kingston here last night in one of the preliminaries to the Berlenbach-Stone bout, in six rounds. Berlenbach knocked out Stone in the fifth.

Bouts Suit Big Crowd at Smoker

Five 4-round and two 6-round bouts at the Elks' smoker Monday night provided the fight fans with the best entertainment they have had in Kingston in many moons. The fans were there in force, every inch of space being taken up by the crowd. Following the bouts there were three acts of vaudeville from the Kingston Opera House which drew applause.

The two main bouts were between Joe Garvey, an employe of the New York Telephone Company and Joe Werner, a New York boy who has come to Ulster county to live, and Don Hyatt of this city and Joe Romanelli of Poughkeepsie. Garvey was apparently several pounds lighter than Werner but his skill got him nearly an even break with the rugged, hard hitting Werner. Garvey was in trouble in the second round but finished strong. Hyatt and Romanelli went at it hammer and tongs at the sound of the gong but neither landed effectively in the first round. In the second, however, Romanelli connected with Hyatt's jaw and stomach with wicked lefts and the local man went to the floor momentarily. After that Hyatt avoided the Poughkeepsian's deadly south paw and had the better of the argument. He beat Romanelli to the punch repeatedly and his blows carried steam, but the down river fighter seemed to absorb them without trouble.

The first bout of the evening saw Joe Colletti, introduced as a contender for the flyweight title, and Terry Rock, his sparring partner, in a four-round exhibition, which was highly entertaining. They were followed by four rounds of battling in which Young Lurie and Kid Fisher swung with great force but little damage and then Jimmy Howard of this city and Joe Koeman, a likely looking boy from Phoenicia, who fought mostly on the defensive on his first appearance here, danced around the ring for four rounds. Koeman kept out of Howard's way and would not take the offensive himself. Kid Vollmer boxed George Bowman, slim colored youth, four fast rounds to what would have been a draw, both boys making a decided hit with the fans. Hubbard Coffey and William Roedell, the latter a policeman, went through four rounds of light heavyweight stuff, being prett evenly matched.

Edward Cashin was the third man in the ring for all the bouts and Edward Scherer outdid Joe Humphreys as announcer, his clarion voice and long words reaching all parts of the hall.

WHAT MEN TALK ABOUT.

It seems that the Journal of the American Medical Association, in order to learn what people talk most about, sent persons to listen-in or eavesdrop in New York City and Columbus, Ohio, and, judging from reports of the findings, men only were investigated. Apparently men in New York and the Middle West discuss the same subjects and the subjects are fewer than might be expected. "Men's most frequent topic," we read, "is business—49 per cent in Columbus and 48 per cent in New York. If sports and other amusements are combined, these topics have a frequency of 15 per cent at Columbus and 14 per cent in New York. The third topic of men's conversation is men—12 per cent in Columbus and 13 per cent in New York."

Business, amusements, and men—popular topics, of course, but surely there are others of continuing recurrence. What about prohibition, dependable bootleggers, and guaranteed recipes for home-brew? But perhaps these, for one reason or another, were purposely left out of the showing. Then there is the deathless subject of the changeful weather, but this may have been excluded as too inevitable and commonplace. Strange that there is no mention of food, clothes, or the fond father's wonderful little boy back home. And not a word about women and love—how unflattering to the fair sex! Were the eavesdroppers shut out here, or are they, as psychologists, in the habit of grouping love under the general head of amusements?

Women do receive mention, however, for we read: "In mixed company men most frequently talk to women about amusements, and next of business and money. They further seem to talk to women considerably about themselves—17 per cent—which is more than when talking to other men." Only 17 per cent talk about themselves to women! This strains credulity to the breaking point. We may rest assured that observant women possessed of a sense of humor could tell a very different story.

We are more convinced when, in regard to classification as to social status, we read: "Business people talked about business and money in 70 per cent of cases, with 43 per cent for industrial workers and 9 per cent for students. Industrial workers talk chiefly about men and themselves, and students talk chiefly about other men, their opportunities and amusements. Only 8 per cent of student conversation overheard dealt with actual college work."

The reporters listened in "restaurants, at basketball games, in theater lobbies, in front of store windows, on the university campus, in churches, on the street and in barber shops." Why not also in clubs, hotel lobbies and in smokers on trains? Only recently we saw in print the ventured estimate that among the travelling male public the topic of prohibition ranked from 80 to 90 per cent.

News of Germany's preparation to repudiate the report of the Dawes committee in advance of knowledge of its provisions reminds one commentator of the irate little girl who said to a schoolmate: "I don't know what you're going to say, but whatever it is, 'taint true!" Obviously Germany can be forced to take the Dawes report seriously only if it is supported by a solid Allied front combined with the support or approval of the United States. As usual the latter will be doubtful owing to the number of our politicians desirous to please constituencies pro-German in sympathy.

William H. Anderson, ex-superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, convicted of forgery, went to Sing Sing calling himself a martyr and lamenting that through the triumph of the wicked (including the court) prohibition itself had received a heavy blow. As a rule men on the way to prison, even murderers, are greeted with silence in which there is a measure of compassion. But everywhere Anderson was jeered, obviously because a pious fraud, stubbornly sticking to is pose, forfeits sympathy. His persistence in identifying himself, and even his crookedness, with the cause he unworthily represented would hardly call for notice were it not that his attitude has been shared by some prohibitionists who in other connections are presumably not lacking in good sense. Strange as it may seem, they appeared to think that in campaigning for Anderson, and in thus helping him to cover up his wrongdoings, they were defending prohibition and that when he was convicted and jailed injury was done the cause itself.

That Body of Yours

LOW BLOOD PRESSURE.

You hear a great deal these days about high blood pressure.

Your insurance examiner is just as particular about that as he is about your heart itself, or the kidneys.

Now high blood pressure is not a good sign in general, because it shows that something is wrong with you somewhere, and so the blood is at high pressure in its effort to get around everywhere and do its work.

However, you would certainly be worse off if you had some heart or kidney trouble, and had a low blood pressure with it.

But what I have in mind is that so many people are so afraid of having a high blood pressure, that they do everything in their power to keep the blood pressure down.

Now if your blood pressure is really high this is good sense, but if your blood pressure is normal, then you are foolish indeed.

Why?

Well just as high blood pressure is a sign that something has gone wrong whether serious or not, low blood pressure is always a sign of lowered vitality.

It means that your heart muscle is likely poor, that your blood is thin, and that you are in a somewhat worn out condition generally. If then you do the things that are used to lower blood pressure you can readily see that you are going to further lower your vitality. For instance with high blood pressure you cut down on foods, liquids, and exercise.

In low blood pressure you should get outdoors everyday, take regular exercise outdoors, and get plenty of good nourishing food.

And so if you are examined for insurance and the examiner states that although your pressure is a little high that the company will accept you, you can rest assured that there can't be much the matter with you. Insurance companies are particular, and rightly so, because most of them are owned by the people, and every company likes to come below its estimated death rate. But if the physician tells you that there is no danger of a stroke in your case because your blood pressure is much too low, lower than the average in fact, don't pat yourself on the back and feel good about it.

Remember, that while it is better to have a low pressure than a high one, nevertheless the low one is not a sign of health.

You are perhaps a little better risk for the company because a low pressure can be built up, while a consistently high one is difficult to lower.

And that is the point in my article.

Instead of hearing so much about high blood pressure, we should hear more about the danger of low pressure. Should an epidemic or illness of any kind come along, the low pressure would be of no advantage to you then. It is just here that a good high normal pressure would come in handy because your circulation would be stronger, and you could put up a better fight against the invader.

HEBRIDEAN SONGS ALLEN WILL SING

Tonight Charles Baldwin Allen, Scottish baritone, assisted by J. Clarendon McClure, pianist, will give their concert of folk songs at the Y. W. C. A., 14 Henry street, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. Mr. Allen will sing among the other groups of songs a group of Hebridean songs, of which Granville Bantlick says, "This living record of song, preserved by oral tradition in lonely islands of the Hebrides, has for all who will hear it with the inner spiritual imagination born of sympathy, a message most poignant, which touches the very life of learned and simple alike." And Rutland Boulton, in the "Music Student," adds, "I myself place these with the few greatest things in music, the 'Choral Symphony,' and 'Parsifal.' The accompaniments are the perfection of folk-song atmosphere." Tomorrow evening Mr. McClure will sing at The Criterion Theatre in New York city in connection with the picture, "The Covered Wagon."

Paper Maker's Ancient Art

To be Shown by Dard Hunter to New York—His Mill at Marlborough Operated by Water Wheel.

Sooner or later most of the exceptional people, and a majority of the interesting industrial processes of the world reach New York, and become for the moment the center of interest. The metropolis is having a combination of the two while Dard Hunter illustrates the art of making paper by hand, using his utensils and methods that were in vogue four centuries ago. Beginning Monday Mr. Hunter is making paper each day during the week at the Paper Industries Exposition in Grand Central Palace, New York city.

The achievement that brought fame to Dard Hunter was the production of a volume called "Old Papermaking." He gathered the material, wrote the text, designed and cast the type, did the typesetting, made the paper by hand, printed the book, and wound up his task by binding the edition of 200 copies.

Coming from a family of printers, Mr. Hunter started his career more than twenty years ago in the Roycroft Shops of Elbert Hubbard, at East Aurora, N. Y. From there he drifted to Europe to study the manufacture of handmade paper and type. He learned the art of ancient paper making in Italy, and was graduated from a famous graphic arts school, the Graphische Lehr and Versuchsanstalt, operated by the Austrian government in Vienna.

Returning to America in 1912, Mr. Hunter set about the realization of his ambition. Near Marlborough-on-the-Hudson he found a piece of property with a stream of pure water. He built a small mill, modeled after a thatched cottage, and installed in it paper making appliances which had been used in England three centuries earlier. These were operated by the power of a wooden water wheel which he built himself.

"When there was water enough to turn the cumbersome wooden wheel, I made paper," Mr. Hunter said. "Each sheet was made separately in a hand mold. When there was no water power to reduce the linen rags to pulp, I busied myself with type making. First each character of the alphabet, both upper and lower case, had to be cut on the end of a steel bar. These punches were then driven into copper pieces which, after justifying, became matrices, and the type was then cast in a hand mold.

"During the whole of this time I kept things going by growing raspberries on the farm, and each season I shipped to the New York market something over six tons of the fruit."

BLOOMINGTON.

Bloomington, April 7.—Mr. and Mrs. John Mullen of Kingston called on friends in this place on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Relyea, after spending a few weeks in New Jersey with their daughter, have returned here to their daughter's home, Mrs. Edwin Lefever, where they will spend a short time before returning to their home in Springtown.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lefever spent the week end with Mrs. Lefever's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schoonmaker, of Marlborough.

Mrs. Benjamin Stokes of Pleasantville was called to her aunt's, Mrs. Ira D. Bush, the past week owing to the death of her grandfather, Julius Meik. All express sympathy to the three daughters and family.

The Rev. Harvey I. Todd will preach next Sunday morning as a candidate. Services at 10 o'clock. Sunday school at 9 o'clock.

The Rev. Mr. Wood of Kingston filled the pulpit on Sunday morning and preached an interesting sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ellsworth of Kingston called on L. C. Terhune and family on Sunday afternoon.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. George F. Kaufman, Surrogate of Ulster County, notice is hereby given, according to law, to all persons having claims against Jemima Longyear, late of the Town of Shandaken, County of Ulster, deceased, intestate, to present the same with the vouchers in support thereof, to the undersigned Administrators of the Goods, Chattels and Credits of the Estate of said deceased, at the residence of Madison Longyear, Phoenicia, Ulster County, New York, on or before the 1st day of July, 1924.

Dated, December 15, 1923.

MADISON LONGYEAR,
HARVEY SHORT,
Administrators.

V. B. Van Wagonen, Attorney, Kingston, N. Y.

SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY OF ULSTER.—George E. Jocelyn and Dolly S. Jocelyn, his wife, Plaintiffs, against Alexander S. Lebovitz and Helen Lebovitz, his wife, Max Stark, Alexander Hegedus and Ethel Hegedus, his wife, Austin, Nichols & Company and Metropolitan Tobacco Co., Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster, State of New York, in the above entitled action, bearing date the 12th day of March, 1924, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the County Court House in the City of Kingston, in said County of Ulster, on the 2nd day of May, 1924, at one o'clock, (Eastern Standard time) in the afternoon of that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

"All that Tract or Parcel of Land, situate in the Town of Shandaken, County of Ulster and State of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Viz:

Beginning at the Northwest corner of lands of Dolly S. Jocelyn, wife of George E. Jocelyn, Boarding House, and runs thence along the Dryer Hollow Road, three chains and fifteen links to the center of the Grave Yard Wall; thence three (3) chains and twenty-one links in a Southerly direction to the line of Edgar Haynes; thence four chains and twenty-one links in an Easterly direction to the lands of the aforesaid Dolly S. Jocelyn; thence in a Northerly direction three chains to the place of beginning, being a portion of the same lands and premises formerly owned by said Edgar Haynes and purchased from said Edgar Haynes by George E. Jocelyn.

Also all that certain piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being at Oliverea, in the Town of Shandaken, Ulster County and State of New York, and bounded and described as follows, viz: Being a strip of land sixteen and one-half (16½) feet in width and running thence South across the lot formerly of Bilchy or Jersey Rosekrans, now Dolly S. Jocelyn, to the lands of formerly Andrus Cole, now Edgar Haynes, two hundred and fifty (250) feet more or less and fully described as follows, Viz:

Beginning on the line of the Dryer Hollow Road near a Maple tree standing on the line along the road and lot, thence running in a Southerly direction two hundred and fifty (250) feet more or less to the line of lands of Edgar Haynes; thence in a Westerly direction sixteen and one-half (16½) feet to lands of Dolly S. Jocelyn; thence along lands of said Dolly S. Jocelyn two hundred and fifty (250) feet more or less in a Northerly direction to the Dryer Hollow Road; thence along said Dryer Hollow Road sixteen and one-half (16½) feet to the place of beginning.

Also all that certain piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Great Lot No. 7 in the Hardenburgh Patent, in Big Indian Hollow, in the Town, County and State aforesaid, and bounded as follows, Viz:

Beginning at a hemlock fence post on the Southerly side of the highway and running thence in a Southerly course twelve and one-half feet from the west side of the milk-room against the dwelling house now on said premises to a hemlock stump near a brook one hundred and seventy-five (175) from the place of beginning; and thence in an exactly east course forty-two feet to a fence post marked; thence in a northerly course one hundred and seventy-five feet to a fence post marked and standing on the southerly side of the highway; thence in a westerly course in a straight line fifty-five feet to the place of beginning, more or less.

Also all that other certain piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the said Town of Shandaken, near the premises above described and on the easterly side of a private road or lane leading to Andres Cole's barn, and bounded as follows, Viz:

Beginning at a cherry fence post on the southerly side of the public highway, and running thence south two degrees and thirty minutes west two chains and fifty links, running seventeen feet from the westerly side of John York's dwelling house, to a stream of water; thence up the said stream of water to the corner of the bridge at a stake and stones; thence northerly along a board fence about two chains and fifty links to a fence post on the southerly side of the highway; thence along a board fence to the place of beginning, be the same more or less.

Also all that certain piece or parcel of land situate at Oliverea, in the Town of Shandaken, Ulster County and State of New York, and bounded and described as follows, Viz:

Beginning at the north west corner of lands owned by Dolly S. Jocelyn, wife of George E. Jocelyn, and running thence up the Dryer Hollow Road one hundred and seventy-two feet (172,) thence in a southerly direction to Edgar Haynes line to a heap of stones on wall; thence in an easterly direction two hundred and forty-eight (248) feet to lands of Dolly S. Jocelyn, thence along said line in a northerly direction to the place of beginning; Containing one acre of land, be the same more or less.

Being the same premises this day conveyed to the party of the first part by the parties of the second part, this mortgage being given to secure a part of the purchase price of the said premises. Being a part of the premises conveyed to the parties of the second part by Hattie L. Johnson by deed dated September 15, 1916, and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book 461 of Deeds at page 28. The parcel last hereinabove described being the same premises as the parcel first hereinabove described, it being the intention of the party of the first part to convey to the parties of the second part all of the premises described in said deed from Hattie L. Johnson to the parties of the second part hereto except the first parcel described (as containing one hundred and twenty-five acres of land, be the same more or less)) in said deed."

The foregoing description so contained in said judgment is taken from the description of the premises to be sold which is contained in the mortgage to foreclose which this action was brought.

3 Contests for Olympic Fund

To Be Held Monday Evening at Brooklyn Armory—Best Cage Teams In The Country To Stage Contests.

Professional basketball of the east will do its bit on Monday evening, April 14, at the 13th Regiment Armory, Putnam Avenue and Sumner Avenue, Brooklyn, to put the Olympic Fund over the top. Through the kind offers of the Metropolitan League, six of the best cage game teams in the country have volunteered their services gratuitously to aid this meritorious cause, and the carnival, under the direction of W. W. Cohen, Chairman of Mayor Hylan's Committee on Municipal Athletics, should be the greatest event of its kind ever before held in Greater New York.

Every club of repute in the country did everything possible to get behind this great idea, but the limited time allotted to the carrying out of the program precluded the playing of more than three games in one night.

Chairman Cohen drew lots to select the order in which the games were to be played, so that no one would be slighted in any way, and the result came out as follows:

8 p. m.—Brooklyn (Metropolitan League vs. Glens Falls, N. Y. State Champions) League winners.

9 p. m.—Paterson (Metropolitan League) vs. Trenton, (Metropolitan League) for the New Jersey State Championship.

10 p. m.—Original Celtics (World's Champions) vs. Rosenblums of Cleveland (Middle Western champions.)

As the roster of players involved in the six teams represented, comprise the pick of the country's leading professional stars, whose pay, if assumed by the committee, would be in the vicinity of over $1,000, it can easily be seen that the attractions could not well have been grouped on any other program before.

The managers have made it a personal question to have their players on the floor in time for each game, so that there will be no unnecessary delay, and the committee in charge of the affair have every assurance that the contests will proceed with clocklike regularity.

During the past several years the SUPPLY of coal did not equal the DEMAND and all retail coal dealers had difficulty in getting a sufficient SUPPLY to take care of their customers' needs. Even though the weather was mild last winter, there were times when orders could not be filled promptly. We believe that the service rendered by us at all times, and especially when there was a shortage of coal in the City of Kingston, warrants continued patronage.

To avoid a shortage and to be assured of coal for your winter's use, we recommend that you place orders NOW.

Monday Club Elects Officers

The last of this season's meetings of the Monday Club was held at the home of Mrs. G. D. B. Hasbrouck on Monday afternoon. During the business session several matters came up of widespread interest that were brought to the attention of the club through the Federation of Women's Clubs and the action relative thereto was referred to the local Federation.

Mrs. Henry Van Hoevenberg was chosen as the delegate from the Monday Club to attend the National Federation of Women's Clubs at Los Angeles, California, Mrs. Van Hoevenberg leaving for California some time in May. The Monday Club voteed to contribute $10 to the Federation fund for the Kingston City Library. All present were reminded of the lecture to be given by Mrs. Lawton of Glens Falls on the billboard subject at St. John's Parish House on Tuesday afternoon.

Inasmuch as this was the last meeting of the club it was unanimously voted to send greetings to each of the "shut-ins" of the club, Mrs. M. J. Michael, Mrs. Boeve, Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Wheeler and Miss Forsyth, expressing the hope of their speedy recovery and restored good health so that in the fall they might again meet with their fellow-members.

The subject of study for next year has not been definitely decided upon by the club as it has been waiting to hear from Miss Ellery of the Vassar Faculty whom they had hoped to secure to lecture on some phase of history. It was finally voted to leave the matter of securing a lecturer for a course of study next year with power to the program committee.

Mrs Burgevin had the paper for the day on "The Psychology of Temperament." It was a masterly paper in that Mrs. Burgevin was able to so far disentangle a very technical yet interesting subject as to present it with such logical sequence and understanding as to make her hearers share with her an understanding of her subject. It was followed by considerable discussion.

The afternoon closed with the election of officers, Mrs. William Lawton being unanimously chosen as president to succeed herself Mrs. De la Vergne was elected vice-president and Mrs Burgevin was re-elected secretary-treasurer This brought to a close the regular meetings of the Monday Club for the season of 1923-24, but a special meeting will be called when the subject for next year's program has been settled

HOME BUREAU MEETING FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

The last lesson in the nutrition project for Shawangunk members of the Ulster County Home Bureau will be given on Friday afternoon, April 11, at 2 o'clock. The place of meeting will be announced later. The change of meeting date from Thursday to Friday has been made on account of the county-wide meeting in Kingston on Thursday, as Shawangunk members of the Home Bureau are now ready to begin their clothing project. At the Friday meeting, Mrs. Furman, nutrition leader, will discuss "Digestive Difficulties in the Stomach."

The next meeting for Asbury Home Bureau members will be held on Saturday afternoon, April 12, at the home of Mrs. Kaufman. Mrs. H. M. Eppes of Accord will give the nutrition lesson. A large attendance is anticipated.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Pretty "House" Frock.

4612. Household duties will be lightened when one is attired in so comfortable and pretty an "apron frock" as is here portrayed. The closing is at the left side, and the right side boasts of a very convenient pocket.

AN APPRECIATION OF THE HUMBLE BANANA

(By Eleanor Gunn).

Among the new colors the names of which are constantly being rolled on the tongues of those who discourse knowingly on the mode, is banana. Not entirely a new shade, this creamy yellow has received a tremendous impetus from the song deploring the shortage of bananas, a song which has been transplanted in many tongues and sung in many lands.

Several of the couture emphasized banana at the last openings, some even going so far as to pay homage to the fruit by naming certain of their models after it.

Banana is a lovely color and one which is usually possible in some way to the average woman. It may be used for a hat with some bit of the color repeated on the costume or it may supply the entire color scheme of the evening toilette.

There are colors which have far more charm in dull surfaced fabrics while others are at their loveliest in materials that reflect bright lights. Yellow seems to be best liked in velvets in soft dull crepes and chiffons but also in high favor at the moment are all shades of yellow broadcloth and flannel.

One of the loveliest actresses on the American stage wears much yellow and is fond of it in combination with either gold or silver One of her loveliest frocks is a yellow broadcloth banded with cloth of gold, while an evening frock is a stunning combination of silver and gold cloth. Until of comparatively recent date, yellow has had scant appreciation from the couture The advent of the nasturtium shades turned the tide and now one finds yellow worn with stunning effect by both blonde and brunette as well as titian-haired women.

If there is any truth in the theory that in selecting a color one should match either one's hair or one's eyes the yellow haired woman should be at her best in tones which reflect the gold of her tresses. Once in the not so long ago the red-haired girl felt herself restricted to all shades of blue, black or white, but now it is not unusual to find her in bright red, vivid coral or pale pink while greens and browns are regarded as her special province.

OLIVE BRIDGE.

Olive Bridge, April 7.—Mrs. Eva Wager left Kingston Monday for Alberta, Canada, after spending three months with relatives and friends in the east.

Miss Janice Steiner of Kingston spent the week end with her friend, Mable Christiana.

Ida Mae Davis entertained her little friends at a birthday party Friday afternoon. After playing games refreshments were served.

Miss Gladys Silkworth spent the week end at the home of her cousin, Aletta Davis.

Mrs. S. S. Robbins, Mrs. C. A. Davis and daughter, Cecile, were entertained at a farewell dinner given in honor of Mrs. Eva Wager at Mr. and Mrs. Ben Silkworth's in Kingston on Monday evening.

The Rev. S. S. Robbins is attending conference in New York city. All are hoping he will be returned here for another year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Irving and family expect to move to Stamford, Conn., in the near future.

School was closed Thursday and Friday last week owing to illness of the teacher.

The play, "An Old Fashioned Mother," given in the hall Friday evening, was a grand success. $43.45 was realized. All enjoyed the treat of warm maple sugar, which was served after the play. We wish to thank all who helped to make it a success.

I Use a Cream

Which France perfected—the finest ever known

By Edna Wallace Hopper

France gave to me, many years ago, the finest cold cream in existence. It helped to make me a famous beauty—the rage of New York. And now, after 40 years as a stage star, it keeps me a beauty still.

Many young girls envy my complexion. And my youthful bloom at my age is the marvel of millions of women. Now I have arranged to supply to all the very helps which made me what I am.

A fruity cream

My Youth Cream contains products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to soften, feed and smooth the skin.

No woman I know has ever found anything to so foster the fine texture of the skin. Whatever cream you have used before, my Youth Cream will amaze you.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream is now supplied by all druggists and toilet counters. Price, 60c per jar. It comes in two types—the Cold Cream type and the Vanishing type. Be sure to get the type you want. Both have the same essential constituents. Neither grows hair on the face. Also my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my famous liquid cleanser. Also in facial clay. Also my Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

Now every girl and woman may enjoy the benefits I got. The multiplied beauty, the perennial youth. The greatest beauty helps that science knows are at your call. Let my Youth Cream show you how much they mean to you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

MacDonald Is Allowed to Stay

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, April 8.—The prestige of Premier Ramsay MacDonald's Laborite government has suffered heavily through its defeat in Commons upon the Rent bill last night, but it clung tenaciously to power today.

The cabinet met at noon to consider future policy. It was understood the question of resignations would not be brought up. Through the action of the Tories and Liberals in Commons upon the Rent bill, Premier MacDonald has been warned that his government is one of sufferance. It has been defeated twice since assuming power.

After the budget has been introduced and the reports of the international reparations experts have been studied and digested, the Laborites may decide to go before the public in a general election upon some popular issue.

Premier MacDonald is anxious to attempt a joint allied reparations settlement. Furthermore, he believes, his resignation at this time would not be a strategic move because popular opinion does not understand the Rent bill.

The left wing of the Laborites forced the Rent bill upon him, claiming that it gave protection to unemployed against eviction from their homes.

MILTON.

Milton, April 7.—The Ladies' Needlecraft Society of the Presbyterian Church will hold a food sale in the church parlors April 19, at 3 p. m.

Albert Shaughness, who recently purchased the notion shop on Main street, has put in a very fine stock of men's, women's and children's furnishings.

Mrs. Jesse Flanley of Babylon, L. I., has been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ensign Lyons, on the South road.

The Ladies' Needlecraft Society met at the home of Mrs. J. Harold Clarke Tuesday afternoon, April 1. Although it was a very stormy day, the ladies spent a very enjoyable afternoon.

The condition of Miss I. F. Woolsey, who is a patient at Vassar Hospital, remains about the same. Miss Woolsey recently underwent two serious operations and much anxiety is felt for her by her many friends, who hope for her speedy recovery.

The Hon. C. M. Woolsey is at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, where he is undergoing treatment. His many friends hope for his recovery. Mr. Woolsey is one of the oldest residents here and has done a great deal for the good of this community. He is also well known throughout Ulster county.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Coates of South Hampton, L. I., were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Donaldson, Jr.

The regular meeting of the local W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Harold Clarke Friday afternoon, April 11, at 3 o'clock.

The boats of the Central-Hudson Steamboat Company are now making through trips between Kingston and New York, and will make landings at Milton Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays on the south bound trips.

The Milton Woolen Mills are receiving large orders. Twenty-four are employed at present at the mills. Prospects for a big year's business are very encouraging.

Miss May Lee Brice of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Carola DuBois.

Miss Maria Crook, who has been spending the winter at Queens, N. Y., returned to her home last week.

THE OFFICE CAT

By Junius

Did you ever watch the transition of a tadpole into a frog? Try it once and you will know more about the world.

Household Hint: Cellars are being used most for reception rooms this season.

"Friends," are often people who spend the money they owe you buying flowers at your funeral.

Few people have faith enough to walk on water even when the ice is thick.

Birds of a Different Feather.

From the topmost twig of a towering tree
A hermit thrush poured melody,
While, perched on a dead limb far below,
Discordantly cawed a cynical crow.

A traveller, charmed by the vesper song
Of the woodland chorister, tarried long,
But anathemas hurled at the carrion bird,
Who voiced but evil and would be heard.

Now both birds sat on the self-same tree—
Drew the blessings of Nature in like degree—
But the one gave thanks with each singing breath,
While the other grumbled and croaked till death.

So ever the wood-thrush's liquid lay
Brings peace to the heart at the close of day,
While the clamor of crow leaves the spirit numb,
And fearful of "things in the night" to come.

If you can't carol, don't croak!

Why, Of Course.

"With all due deference, my boy, I really think our English custom at the telephone is better than saying 'Hello!' as you do."

"What do you say in England?"

"We say, 'Are you there?' Then, of course, if you are not there, there is no use in going on with the conversation."

Some fellows will never be able to play on a harp in the hereafter as they know nothing but chin music.

Correct this sentence: It's a thrilling book, said she, but I haven't turned to the back to see how it comes out.

"How do you like your new place?" asked a housemaid of her freind.

"Too confining, too confining," replied the friend. "The old man and his wife quarrel so much that I can't get away from the keyhole more than five minutes at a time."

Speaking about radio, we can remember when the music in the hall was broadcast from the woodshed.

VIOLA DANA in "ROUGED LIPS"

The story of a girl with a musical comedy soul—with that inimitable comedian TOM MOORE

Lattie Norah MacPherson had a bit of Scotch and a bit of Irish in her—

So she was ready to fight her way when she entered the chorus. Then she saw Jimmy Patterson III skidding fast. She did not want any of the gilt of gilded youth, but she thought she could use a lot of Jimmy's love.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

LOUISIANA.

Today is the 112th anniversary of the admission of Louisiana as a state of the union. A century before, in 1712, Louis XIV of France had named the region Louisiana, in honor of himself. In 1762, France ceded it to Spain, but in 1803 it was returned to France and was purchased from that nation by the United States in 1803 for $15,000,000. It was divided into the territories of Orleans and Louisiana, and the former was admitted by congress as the state of Louisiana on April 8, 1812 when the name of the latter was changed to Missouri.

POSTAL REGISTRY.

Sixty-one years ago today the postal registry system was established. The provision of the registry of letters for their greater safety was not, however, an American innovation, as it was first used in the British postal system. The postal money order system, which had been adopted in England in 1792, was not introduced in the U. S. until 1864, at about the same time the free delivery of mail was inaugurated in the cities. The special delivery system was inaugurated in 1885. Rural free delivery was the next important step. Parcel posts and postal savings, comparatively recent innovations in the U. S. were adopted much earlier in the leading countries of Europe.

CLARA REEVE.

Was born in 1715 at Ipswich, England, daughter of a clergyman. An early admiration of Horace Walpole's "Castle of Otranto," induced Miss Reeve to imitate it in a Gothic story titled "The Old English Baron." Mr. Chamber in his Cyclopedia says of this work: "In some respects the lady has the advantage of Walpole, her supernatural machinery is better managed, so as to produce mystery and effect, but her style has not the point nor elegance of Horace Walpole. She wrote several other works, all marked, says Sir Walter Scott, 'by excellent good sense, pure morality and a competent command of those qualities which constitute good romance.' Her fame, however, rests on her 'Old English Baron' which is now generally printed along with the story of Walpole. It was published in 1777. Miss Reeve died in 1803."

Mandate, Says Mussolini.

Mixture of Six Oils Stops Colds

A remarkable new, scientific combination of six antiseptic oils has been perfected that brings such amazing results in all kinds of colds, inflammation, catarrh, etc., that it tends to prevent pneumonia and other serious complications.

Druggists dispense this mixture of six oils under the name WONDEROIL. You simply apply it on the outside of the throat and chest and up the nostrils. It penetrates instantly to the inflamed membranes and air passages, clearing the nostrils in a jiffy and driving out the inflammation of deep chest colds, sore throat, etc. For croupy colds of children it can't be beat. Shows How To Save Lives

Captain Carol Bryant, field representative of the American Red Cross Life Saving Division, of Washington, D. C., was in Kingston Monday in the interest of life saving and swimming. Captain Bryant is one of eight men who are touring the country in the interest of safety. The slogan which has been adopted for the year is "Waterproof America."

Monday he gave five demonstrations, two at the Y. W. C. A., and three at the Y. M. C. A. In the afternoon he gave one demonstration at the Y. W. C. A., for girls and in the evening one for the women. In the afternoon at the Y. M. C. A., he met with the police department and later with the boys of the Y. In the evening he met with the Boy Scouts, the seniors of the Y. M. C. A., and the employed boys. At the evening meeting his demonstration was attended by about 300.

The Y. M. C. A. under the leadership of Physical Director Miller is planning to organize a life saving corps. Anyone interested may pass the required tests and become a member by applying to Mr. Miller.

Still Propose Methodist Paper

Passes Request of Poughkeepsie District on to General Conference—Rice and Snyder Debate.

Assailing modern newspapers for devoting attention to "robbery, murder, bootlegging, prizefighting, political propaganda and the things that tend toward hell" rather than to "religion and the things that tend toward Heaven" the New York conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at the close of its annual business session Monday at the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, Seventh Avenue and 129th street, voted in favor of the establishment of newspapers to be edited and published by the church.

After a debate in which newspapers were condemned by some ministers and praised by others, the conference adopted a memorial addressed to the church's quadrennial convention to be held in Springfield, Mass., next May, recommending that the church establish newspapers in three large cities. The Springfield convention is the church's legislative body and the memorial by the New York conference, in which 285 churches in Manhattan were represented, it was explained, would be considered by the national convention only as a recommendation.

Opponents of the plan to have the church publish its own newspapers held that already "religion was getting a fair share of publicity," but others contended that the Methodist Episcopal Church should have its own daily publications to disseminate not only religious but other news.

It was declared that ministers were getting tired of being pictured in cartoons as "long-haired, cemetery-faced gloom dispensers and joy-killers or as silly, stupid mollycoddlers."

The Rev. G. Franklin Snyder, of Chatham, leader of a group of ministers from the Poughkeepsie district, who favored church journals, charged that newspapers "headlined everything that tended toward hell and smalltyped everything that tended toward heaven."

He asserted that in competing with murderers, robbers, prizefighters and politicians church workers got scant attention.

"Prizefights, hold-ups, robberies and murders are featured is minute detail," said Mr. Snyder. "Political propaganda is put forth without any regard, it would seem, to its truthfulness, and the liberty of the press has long lapsed into a mere license to print what it pleases regarding the character of any one whom it desires to traduce and slander.

"The Eighteenth Amendment is the greatest welfare movement of the century, yet it is subjected to practically unanimous ridicule in the press. This attitude on the part of the press has created such a disrespect for the law and such a boldness on the part of all criminals as to threaten the foundations of the Republic and even civilization itself.

"It is also true that the Roman Catholic Church has such an influence over the press of the country as to make the situation a threat against the perpetuation of our Protestant institutions.

"Anyone doubting this may become enlightened by trying to get any of our prominent papers to print anything, however fair and truthful, that even in the slightest degree differs from the position occupied by the Roman Catholic Church. Unless this thing is stopped or counteracted in both the press and the 'movies' crime will continually increase and our world rapidly go to the devil.

"Why not determine here to start a vast movement that shall culminate in the establishment of a great Protestant daily on such a lofty plane and yet conducted along such practical lines as to make it a welcome visitor in every home where the truth is properly valued?"

Opposition to the estsablishment of church newspapers was led by the Rev. George W. Rice, of Manhattan. He said the churches of all denominations were receiving "their fair share of publicity." Others contended that the church, in its weekly newspaper and other publications, has sufficient means of reaching the public. It was asserted by the opponents of the plan that the Springfield convention probably would disapprove of the recommendations, similar suggestions in previous years having been declined.

A recommendation that the conference memorialize the church to reorganize the administrative branch of its missionary work by consolidating the board of home and foreign missions was defeated.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, April 8.—Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Farr, F. J. Farr and Miss Florence Decker returned to Ellenville on Saturday, after spending the winter in Miami, Florida.

New Developm'nt In Northern Part of City

Hasbrouck Farm Sold To Jersey City Corporation for $35,000—Will Become Building Lots.

A deed was filed for record at the office of the Ulster county clerk today, by which Henrietta J. Hasbrouck transfers her farm and residence property in the town of Ulster, a short distance from the Kingston city line to the Owners' Development Company of Jersey City, a New Jersey corporation. There are 152.66 acres on the farm and the revenue stamps on the deed indicate the consideration was $35,000. The farm which fronts on the Kingston-Saugerties highway adjoins the Maple Lane farm late of Watson M. Freer, now owned by Adelbert H. Chambers.

The Owners' Development Company early last autumn purchased several acres of land adjoining their present purchase to the south of David Krusher which they plotted into building lots and sold within three months. The Hasbrouck farm which they now own will be developed into building lots. Virgil B Van Wagonen represented Mrs Henrietta J. Hasbrouck in the sale and Arthur C. Connelly the Owners' Development Company, being their attorney.

GIRLS BURNED AT GREEK LETTER SOCIETY INITIATION

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, April 8.—Three Brooklyn school girls were today recovering from painful burns as a result of being decorated with a solution of nitrate of silver as part of a Greek letter society initiation.

Dr. J. Herbert Low, principal of Erasmus High School, which two of the victims attend, said the sorority has no connection with the school and there is nothing the institution can do.

The girls, Miss Helen Chapman, Hein Steingester and Mildred Hellwig, were candidates for membership in the Delta Kappa Gamma sorority.

During the initiation they were daubed with the nitrate, the letters "D. K. G." painted on their foreheads and crosses marked on their backs. The following day the skin turned black and intense pain resulted.

GRANTED DISSOLUTION OF HER MARRIAGE.

A hearing upon the application of Florence De Lass for a dissolution of her marriage to Jay De Lass, under the provision of the domestic relation law after five years' absence, was held before Supreme Court Justice A. H. Seeger at Newburgh on Friday and an order was granted in favor of Mrs. De Lass, the petitioner, dissolving the marriage. Corporation Counsel Grant M. Brinnier of Saugerties was attorney for Mrs. De Lass.

DENIES TALKING POLITICS.

Judge Cunningham Says He Was Misinterpreted on Catholics.

William D. Cunningham of Ellenville, N. Y., former judge of the court of claims, denied in New York Monday that he had said at the Police Department Holy Name Society's communion breakfast at the Hotel Commodore on Sunday that "it was impossible for a Roman Catholic, because of his faith, to attain high office," as was reported.

"I did not make the statement, either in words or substance, nor did I discuss Catholics in their political relationships," Mr. Cunningham said. "Furthermore, I repudiate the view attributed to me. I believe it is an anachronism and political superstition which the American people will utterly ignore whenever they face it.

"I discussed only the religious and educational activities of Catholics and lamented our lack of understanding lay leaders like Chesterton and Belloc in the religious and intellectual fields. Judge Tiernan, sensing my statement as a charge that we have no capable leaders at all, launched into a speech laudatory of Governor Smith as a man and as a political leader—a matter utterly foreign to my discussion. My sense of propriety alone would have prevented me from abusing the occasion by political discussion."

Doings at Y. M. H. A.

This evening at 8 o'clock a joint meeting of the Y. M. H. A. and the Y. W. H. A. will be held at the club rooms at which time Mr. Lefft, field secretary of the Jewish Welfare Board, will be present and speak. At the close of the meeting a social hour will be held. An invitation is extended to the Young Judeans of the city to attend.

Tax Agency to Close Wednesday

No other opportunity will be afforded residents of this section to secure assistance in the filling out of their state income tax returns after Auditor Richard Crinigan of that bureau closes his agency in the Kingston court house office on April 9.

"We want the taxpayers to bring their problems to our representative," said District Director John G. Malone today. "Our field men, after the year's work of audit, have undoubtedly passed on practically every income tax quandary which faces the ordinary taxpayer. In addition they are abreast of the latest changes in the law and the regulations.

"An important change has been made as to the minimum income on which returns from married persons should be filed. Married persons with net incomes of $2,500 or more must send in blanks. This is a change under a new bill, as the old requirement was for returns in these cases where the net incomes was $2,000 or over.

"Single persons with net incomes of $1,000 or over during the year 1923, even though they are the heads of families, must file returns.

"Nothing can be gained by delaying the performance of this duty," concluded the district director, "because it is extremely doubtful if any further changes will be made by this year's legislature in the income tax law.

Mrs. Mahlah Mower died at her nephew's, Raymond Mower's, home at Asbury Saturday evening, April 5, aged 85 years. Funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. W. F. Hersh officiating. Burial in the West Camp Cemetery.

Ida Sammons, widow of Isaac Bradley of Kerhonkson, died Monday, April 7 at Parker's Landing, Pa. Services at chapel of A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street, Wednesday afternoon, at 1 o'clock. Interment in Rosendale Plains Cemetery.

The funeral of William V. Dubois, who died Thursday at his home in Union Center, was held Sunday at the chapel, with interment in Ulster Park Cemetery. He is survived by his wife, Ellen, one son Jesse, two sisters, Mrs. Emma Dickerson and Miss Bessie Dubois and two brothers, Merrill and Fred of Kingston.

Antonio Salvione died in Glasco Sunday, April 6, from pneumonia, from which he suffered the past few days. He was 51 years old. A wife and four daughters, Anna, Maria, Filimino and Teressa, survive him. Funeral was held in St. Joseph's Church, the Rev. John B. Eula, officiating, this morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery, Barclay Heights.

The funeral of Eileen Marie, the infant daughter of Henry R. and Elizabeth Saas Nicols, formerly of this city, and now of Jersey City, N. J., was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the home of Mrs. Nicols's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Saas at No. 13 East Pierpont street. The interment was in the family plot in St. Peter's cemetery.

The body of the late Mrs. Carrie Darrow of Allentown, Pa., arrived at Saugerties Sunday evening on the 11:15 W. S. R. R. train. Funeral was held at home of Mr. and Mrs. William E Comfort on Livingston street, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in Mountain View Cemetery. The Rev. William T. Renison, of Trinity P. E. Church, officiated at the grave.

The funeral of Harry Benjamine, whose body was found last Saturday in Broad Street Hollow, was held from the undertaking parlors of Lee Breithaupt in Phoenicia, Monday morning. The interment was at Shandaken in the Coons cemetery. He was a son of the late Rev. Frank Benjamine. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Eva Townsend. Mr. Benjamine had a good many friends at Phoenicia.

Mrs. Eleanor J. Mower died at the home of her daughter on Main street, Saugerties, Sunday evening, aged 81 years. She leaves three daughters, Mrs. Edward Bishop and Mrs. Enna Cook of Saugerties, and Mrs. William Manning of Palenville, and one son, Peter Mower, of Saugerties. Funeral at the home of Mrs. Cook, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. Homer L. Sheffer, officiating. Interment in Blue Mountain Cemetery.

The funeral of the late James Fitzgerald was held from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Delia McQuaid, 44 Tompkins street, this morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Mary's Church at 9:30 o'clock, where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Thomas A. Keane. The funeral cortege was very large and the floral tributes many and beautiful, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held by his friends and acquaintances. The bearers were John Murphy, E. A. Gillen, Phillip Reilly, John Reilly, William Reilly and Henry Mowell. The Rev. John F. Duffy accompanied the remains to St. Mary's Cemetery, where the committal services were conducted.

Abel Black, a life-long and highly respected citizen of the community, died early this morning following a short illness. He was the son of Daniel and Ellen Abernethy Black and in early life engaged in the cement business but following the death of his father he returned home to manage the farm. He has ever been known for his industriousness and generosity to all who needed help in any way, and his death will be a loss to his many friends. He leaves a son Walter of Troy, Alabama and three sisters, Mrs. Arsenia Crom of Ellenville and the Misses Mary and Jennie who resided with the deceased in the old homestead on the Rosendale road. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

William P. Low died at his home, No. 43 Clinton avenue, Saturday and was buried from his late residence this afternoon. The interment was in Wiltwyck cemetery. In Mr. Low's death the city has lost one of its oldest inhabitants and one of its best citizens. Mr. Low had lived at No. 43 Clinton avenue for upwards of fifty years, and was a good neighbor, an upright, honest and industrious citizen, and a man who by his character and habits had endeared himself to all who knew him. For many years Mr. Low drove a sprinkling wagon on the uptown streets and was always faithful to every trust reposed in him. He is survived by one son, Lewis. His wife and one daughter, Miss Jessie Low, a former school teacher in the city, predeceased him some time ago, and his son, Marcellus Low, died but a short time ago.

Byron S. Thornton died at his home on Washington avenue, Saugerties, about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning in the 53rd year of his age. Mr. Thornton was a much respected and highly esteemed resident of Saugerties, and his untimely death will be felt and mourned by the many friends that knew him. Mr. Thornton was formerly of Ellenville, and was well known here and was proprietor of the Orpheum Theater in Saugerties for the past five years, and had recently completed renovating the theater. Mr. Thornton was also lessee of the Maxwell Opera House on Main street, Saugerties, and was well known in theatrical circles. He is survived by a wife, six sons, Robert, of New York, Thomas, Eugene, William, George and Walter of Saugerties and four brothers and two sisters. Funeral services Wednesday morning, April 9, at 10 o'clock at late residence and 10:30 o'clock at St. Mary's Church, Saugerties, with requiem Mass for the repose of the soul, the Rev. Martin P. O'Gara officiating. Interment in Fantinekill Cemetery, Ellenville.

Matthew H. Roosa, a lifelong resident of Lyonsville and Rose Hill where he was born and always resided, died Wednesday, April 2. Mr. Roosa had been in failing health for some years, from cerebral hemmorrhage, which caused his sudden death. He was fifty-four years of age, a man of sterling character, a quiet unassuming citizen, who commanded the respect of all who knew him. He had been a professed Christian from his youth, and a member of the Lyonsville Reformed Dutch Church. The funeral services were held at his late home on Sunday, April 6, at eleven o'clock. Although the weather was very stormy, the house was filled with those who remembered him graciously. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Lemuel Davis who paid a fitting tribute to the deceased. His text was "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world," and "I go to prepare a place for you." From which he deduced the theme, "Our Eternal Contemporary." Mr. Roosa leaves to grieve his departure, a widow, Phoebe C. Davis Roosa, a brother, John Roosa, and a sister, Mrs. James H. Christiana.

High Water At Saugerties

The recent heavy rainfall of Saturday and Sunday together with the melting snow have made the waters of the Esopus creek at Saugerties rise rapidly; and from six to seven o'clock Monday morning there was cordwood, uprooted trees, telegraph poles, etc., going along with the swift current. The water at this time was at the highest point in recent years.

The water in the cove is the highest in some time and it is practically flooded. Much loss is thought to have been made due to the large quantities of cordwood passing down the creek. Standing on the shores in different places are men and boys with poles trying to gather wood from the swift current. The reservoir water is very cloudy and one can see the grains of mud, which is due to the heavy rainfall and melting snow of the recent heavy storm. Much talk is heard about the strength of the dam near the bridge at Saugerties and some express fears of its breaking.

PLUCK!

If you had some musical and mathematical ability, a family tradition of matrimony as your only course, an orphan's flattened purse, a horizon bounded by—the ten souls in your school—the two hundred in your village—and if the little-girl-who-was-you faced all these conflicts and difficulties, would she rail at fate, marry the first man who asked her, or work out a career?

Norwood Baker—that masculine-sounding name proves she's a real Southerner, you know—faced all this and worked out a career. The chronicle runs thus:

"For years I kept thoughts of earning my livelihood to myself, to avoid argument that a girl of the aristocratic Calhoun family could have only one career. A teacher discovered a talent for music. At the little college of music I became discouraged by methods all new to me—I taught at the handsome sum of thirty dollars a month, six of it going for transportation. Meanwhile, a wealthy gentleman, who had studied shorthand and typewriting, instructed me in return for legal work.

"That summer, I arranged to teach at the State Church orphanage for just my board and laundry. I left home at midnight, arriving at 8:30 a. m., to be told my place had been given to a young lady the night before. Imagine my disappointment! Though I was only nineteen, I was made a 'cottage mother' to supervise, alone, 15 children ranging from six to sixteen. The second week I had to entertain the governor's wife. Of course everything went wrong. The world seemed topsy-turvy.

"Next, I was to become social worker in a mill village. The day I should have commenced work the mill office assistant resigned. Would I substitute temporarily? Then, for the first time, the tide turned. The president asked me to stay in the office. From him, a fine executive, and the manager, a detail man, I got wonderful training. I found when it came to figures I could eat 'em up with glee.

"During the war I gloried in running a construction quartermaster's office for Uncle Sam, handling thousands of dollars daily. Now I have another 'man's job,' as treasurer, endowment fund manager and students' banker for Converse college, Spartanburg, S. C."

Though she modestly says this final success is due to "accident," others credit the power of her "smile, combined with firmness and decision you would not think of resisting."

Can Wed a Commoner

It has been customary for the heirs of the throne of the United Kingdom to marry either foreign princesses or members of the nobility, but the prince of Wales can lawfully marry a commoner without affecting his inheritance of the crown.

WISPS OF WISDOM

Expect disappointments, but never defeats.

Low-down practices keep a man low down.

A barber supplies conversation at cut rates.

Be a reformer if you will, but begin on yourself.

Those best can bear reproof who merit praise.

The biggest fool is the man who fools himself.

Any man who looks for trouble is blind to his own interests.

The man who has no faith in human nature is not to be trusted.

Education can never make up for the want of natural ability.

Probably the best housekeeping plan is not to mortgage the house.

It is never too early to begin looking on the bright side of life.

The great pleasure in life is doing what people say you cannot do.

Good humor is the blue sky in which the stars of talent brightly shine.

When the worst comes to the worst it is up to us to make the best of it.

Spread happiness and you are more of a success than many a millionaire.

Service is not so much a thing to talk about as it is a thing to perform.

Babies are born mimics; they use the same kind of language their mothers use.

It takes less effort to make good impressions than to remake bad impressions.

As a rule a young widow begins to get better looking about ten days after the late lamented moves to the cemetery.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Sometimes it is a good thing if it turns out bad.

Truth is mighty, but a great deal of it is suppressed.

He's a poor musician if he is unable to play upon your feelings.

A man should have a good excuse ready before committing a mean act.

Even the philosophical owner of a fireproof building is apt to insure it.

Many a man who follows the band wouldn't have the nerve to face the music.

Every woman thinks there is only one man in the world whose wife is altogether perfect.

Keep your eye on the humble man. Perhaps he is lying low for the purpose of humbling you.

Many a man's reputation for truthfulness goes lame when he begins to say things about himself.

Occasionally a man climbs so high that he roosts above everybody else—then he begins to get lonesome.

ROAD TO SUCCESS

Go to work and forget the clock.

Look to your job, but also look beyond it.

To be paid more, do more than you are paid for.

Command attention because of the attention you give your job.

Read everything you can buy, beg or borrow relative to your business.

Get ready for your promotion before you see the remotest possibility of being promoted.

Fall in love with your work, and if you can't find it in your heart to do so, try for another job.

Give your employer the benefit of your brains even if you think you are being paid only for the work of your hands.

ABOUT WOMEN ONLY

Thirty-five million women and girls buy something each day in some retail store in this country, observers say.

In the United States today there are 300,000 fewer women employed in domestic service than there was a decade ago.

The forerunner of the modern corset dates from the second century, when the fashionable women used them to compress the waist.

Because of the no-corset fad, woman's waist line has jumped first from the average twenty-one to twenty-three inches, and then up to a point between twenty-seven and twenty-eight inches.

"The Deacon's Honeymoon."

The members of the Esopus Church will present the entertainment "The Deacon's Honeymoon" at the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Gem Society. At the close of the entertainment ice cream will be for sale.

Would Include All

Generally speaking, when a woman reforms a man she is content to devote all her efforts to one individual. Men want to make a law that will include everybody and let it go at that.

Origin of Bride's Cake

The bride's cake of today is a relic of a Roman custom. At a Roman marriage the bride was expected to prepare a part at least of the wedding feast with her own hands

New Developm'nt In Northern Part of City

Hasbrouck Farm Sold To Jersey City Corporation for $35,000—Will Become Building Lots.

A deed was filed for record at the office of the Ulster county clerk, today, by which Henrietta J. Hasbrouck transfers her farm and residence property in the town of Ulster, a short distance from the Kingston city line to the Owners' Development Company of Jersey City, a New Jersey corporation. There are 152.66 acres on the farm and the revenue stamps on the deed indicate the consideration was $35,000. The farm which fronts on the Kingston-Saugerties highway adjoins the Maple Lane farm late of Watson M. Freer, now owned by Adelbert H. Chambers.

The Owners' Development Company early last autumn purchased several acres of land adjoining their present purchase to the south of David Krusher which they plotted into building lots and sold within three months. The Hasbrouck farm which they now own will be developed into building lots. Virgil B Van Wagonen represented Mrs Henrietta J. Hasbrouck in the sale and Arthur C. Connelly the Owners' Development Company, being their attorney.

GIRLS BURNED AT GREEK LETTER SOCIETY INITIATION

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, April 8.—Three Brooklyn school girls were today recovering from painful burns as a result of being decorated with a solution of nitrate of silver as part of a Greek letter society initiation.

Dr. J. Herbert Low, principal of Erasmus High School, which two of the victims attend, said the sorority has no connection with the school and there is nothing the institution can do.

The girls, Miss Helen Chapman, Hein Steingester and Mildred Hellwig, were candidates for membership in the Delta Kappa Gamma sorority.

During the initiation they were daubed with the nitrate, the letters "D. K. G." painted on their foreheads and crosses marked on their backs. The following day the skin turned black and intense pain resulted.

GRANTED DISSOLUTION OF HER MARRIAGE.

A hearing upon the application of Florence De Lass for a dissolution of her marriage to Jay De Lass, under the provision of the domestic relation law after five years' absence, was held before Supreme Court Justice A. H. Seeger at Newburgh on Friday and an order was granted in favor of Mrs. De Lass, the petitioner, dissolving the marriage. Corporation Counsel Grant M. Brinnier of Saugerties was attorney for Mrs. De Lass.

DENIES TALKING POLITICS.

Judge Cunningham Says He Was Misinterpreted on Catholics.

William D. Cunningham of Ellenville, N. Y., former judge of the court of claims, denied in New York Monday that he had said at the Police Department Holy Name Society's communion breakfast at the Hotel Commodore on Sunday that "It was impossible for a Roman Catholic, because of his faith, to attain high office," as was reported.

"I did not make the statement, either in words or substance, nor did I discuss Catholics in their political relationships," Mr. Cunningham said. "Furthermore, I repudiate the view attributed to me. I believe it is an anachronism and political superstition which the American people will utterly ignore whenever they face it.

"I discussed only the religious and educational activities of Catholics and lamented our lack of understanding lay leaders like Chesterton and Belloc in the religious and intellectual fields. Judge Tiernan, sensing my statement as a charge that we have no capable leaders at all, launched into a speech laudatory of Governor Smith as a man and as a political leader—a matter utterly foreign to my discussion. My sense of propriety alone would have prevented me from abusing the occasion by political discussion."

Doings at Y. M. H. A.

This evening at 8 o'clock a joint meeting of the Y. M. H. A. and the Y. W. H. A. will be held at the club rooms at which time Mr. Lefft, field secretary of the Jewish Welfare Board, will be present and speak. At the close of the meeting a social hour will be held. An invitation is extended to the Young Judeans of the city to attend.

Tax Agency to Close Wednesday

No other opportunity will be afforded residents of this section to secure assistance in the filling out of their state income tax returns after Auditor Richard Crinigan of that bureau closes his agency in the Kingston court house office on April 9.

"We want the taxpayers to bring their problems to our representative," said District Director John G. Malone today. "Our field men, after the year's work of audit, have undoubtedly passed on practically every income tax quandary which faces the ordinary taxpayer. In addition they are abreast of the latest changes in the law and the regulations.

"An important change has been made as to the minimum income on which returns from married persons should be filed. Married persons with net incomes of $2,500 or more must send in blanks. This is a change under a new bill, as the old requirement was for returns in these cases where the net incomes was $2,000 or over.

"Single persons with net incomes of $1,000 or over during the year 1923, even though they are the heads of families, must file returns.

"Nothing can be gained by delaying the performance of this duty," concluded the district director, "because it is extremely doubtful if any further changes will be made by this year's legislature in the income tax law.

Camp No. 30, P. O. of A., celebrated its 10th anniversary Wednesday evening, April 2, in Pythian Hall, 5 Thomas street. The attendance was very large considering the disagreeable weather. The hall was beautifully decorated in keeping with the color of the order. A splendid program had been prepared by Sister Ida Stewart, consisting of piano and vocal solos, recitations and fancy dancing and several selections by Scheffel's Orchestra. After the program all marched to the banquet hall, where an elaborate dinner was served by the committee in charge. Dancing was enjoyed till a late hour. The occasion was one long to be remembered by all who attended.

On Monday evening, April 7, at the Masonic Hall, 280 Wall street, Colonial Chapter, Order of De Molay for boys, held a very impressive installation of officers. The following officers were installed by Past Master Councilor Thomas A. Rowland, installing officer, assisted by Past Master Councilor John C. Connelly, marshal: Master councilor, James Davies; senior councilor, Ralph Longyear; junior councilor, Robert Case; scribe, Reuben Epstein; treasurer, Floyd Burger; senior deacon, Edwin Messinger; junior deacon, Rodney F. Stock; senior steward, Roland Fiero; junior steward, James Benn; chaplain, Raymond Safford; sentine, Nelson Le Van Haver; marshal, Harry M. Barnhart; standard bearer, Walter Pfrommer; almoner, Kenneth Greene; preceptors, Evan D. Hummel, Charles, Lord, Herman Nesslage, Frank Sammons, George, Taylor, A. E. Brownrigg, Mortimer Lester. Following the installation the Rev. Mr. Moot of the Congregation Church of Ponckhockie gave a very inspiring talk on "The Golden Period of Life." Sir Knight Templars of Rondout Commandery appeared in full uniform assisting in the services. Light refreshments were served and a social hour was spent.

Society Notes

Atharhacton Club.

The Atharhacton Club will hold its last meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Edith Holmes, No. 11 East Chester street.

Sorosis.

Mrs. Cora E. Drake, president of Sorosis, had the last club meeting of the season at her home on Monday afternoon. It was the annual meeting and the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Cora E. Drake; vice-president, Mrs. Lorraine Wood; secretary, Miss Bessie Brewster; assistant secretary, Mrs. William Kemble; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Church. A delightful social hour followed the business meeting. It was reported that the Thomas Jefferson birthday party held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Church netted $6.50 for the Thomas Jefferson Memorial fund.

25th Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Misner celebrated their 25th anniversary Saturday evening at their home, 51 Clinton avenue. The house was prettily decorated in silver and gray and cut flowers. Throughout the evening dancing and vocal selections were enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Misner received many beautiful and useful gifts of silver. At 12 o'clock a buffet lunch was served to about 50 guests. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. McKenna and daughter, Katherine, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. E. Basch, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brennan and sons, Martin and Joseph, all of Middletown, N. Y.

10th Anniversary.

About the Folks

Thomas J. Hickey is seriously ill at his home, corner Broadway and East O'Reilly street.

Mrs. Geraldine Ingles and mother, Mrs. C. M. Faulkner, formerly of Kingston, N. Y., are visiting relatives and friends in Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Charles S. Hicks of 63 Stephan street was taken to the Kingston City Hospital, where she underwent a serious operation, performed by Dr. Snyder.

Mrs. Clarence Schryver, who recently underwent a very serious operation at the Kingston City Hospital, was removed to her home. Dr. Frank A. Johnston performed the operation. She is slowly recovering.

Mrs. Melvin Volk of No. 11 Belvedere street, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Kingston City Hospital, was removed to her home on Monday and is slowly improving under the care of Dr. Snyder.

"The Oak" Here Monday.

The tender Oak of the lighthouse government service was here Monday with supplies for the Rondout creek light. The Oak is one of the newer boats of the service and is screw-driven. No more sidewheel boats are being used in the lighthouse service. This was the first screw-driven boat of the service to appear here. Later she went on up the river to Albany. She carried a crew of twenty-eight men.

Six-Inch Prunes

Burbank's work with prunes, some of which measure six inches in circumference, is said by botanists to be his greatest achievement.

Sunday Is Luckiest Day

The Rumanians regard Sunday as the luckiest day for a wedding, and the autumn, when the wine is in, as the most suitable season.

Pets, Not Pests

Mosquitoes are found in nearly all parts of Africa, with the exception of Timbuktu, where they are so rare that they are sometimes given a pet name

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Harriett, wife of the late Horace Humphrey, died at Springfield, Mass., Sunday, April 6. Funeral Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Chapel of A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street. Interment private in Wiltwyck cemetery.

Mrs. Mahlah Mower died at her nephew's, Raymond Mower's, home at Asbury Saturday evening, April 5, aged 85 years. Funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. W. F. Hersh officiating. Burial in the West Camp Cemetery.

Ida Sammons, widow of Isaac Bradley of Kerhonkson, died Monday, April 7 at Parker's Landing, Pa. Services at chapel of A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street, Wednesday afternoon, at 1 o'clock. Interment in Rosendale Plains Cemetery.

The funeral of William V. Dubois, who died Thursday at his home in Union Center, was held Sunday at the chapel, with interment in Ulster Park Cemetery. He is survived by his wife, Ellen, one son Jesse, two sisters, Mrs. Emma Dickerson and Miss Bessie Dubois and two brothers, Merrill and Fred of Kingston.

Antonio Salvione died in Glasco Sunday, April 6, from pneumonia, from which he suffered the past few days. He was 51 years old. A wife and four daughters, Anna, Maria, Filimino and Teressa, survive him. Funeral was held in St. Joseph's Church, the Rev. John B. Eula, officiating, this morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery, Barclay Heights.

The funeral of Eileen Marie, the infant daughter of Henry R. and Elizabeth Saas Nicols, formerly of this city, and now of Jersey City, N. J., was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the home of Mrs. Nicols's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Saas at No. 13 East Pierpont street. The interment was in the family plot in St. Peter's cemetery.

The body of the late Mrs. Carrie Darrow of Allentown, Pa., arrived at Saugerties Sunday evening on the 11:15 W. S. R. R. train. Funeral was held at home of Mr. and Mrs. William E Comfort on Livingston street, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in Mountain View Cemetery. The Rev. William T. Renison, of Trinity P. E. Church, officiated at the grave.

The funeral of Harry Benjamine, whose body was found last Saturday in Broad Street Hollow, was held from the undertaking parlors of Lee Breithaupt in Phoenicia, Monday morning. The interment was at Shandaken in the Coons cemetery. He was a son of the late Rev. Frank Benjamine. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Eva Townsend. Mr. Benjamine had a good many friends at Phoenicia.

Mrs. Eleanor J. Mower died at the home of her daughter on Main street, Saugerties, Sunday evening, aged 81 years. She leaves three daughters, Mrs. Edward Bishop and Mrs. Enna Cook of Saugerties, and Mrs. William Manning of Palenville, and one son, Peter Mower, of Saugerties. Funeral at the home of Mrs. Cook, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. Homer L. Sheffer, officiating. Interment in Blue Mountain Cemetery.

The funeral of the late James Fitzgerald was held from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Delia McQuaid, 44 Tompkins street, this morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Mary's Church at 9:30 o'clock, where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Thomas A. Keane. The funeral cortege was very large and the floral tributes many and beautiful, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held by his friends and acquaintances. The bearers were John Murphy, E. A. Gillen, Phillip Reilly, John Reilly, William Reilly and Henry Mowell. The Rev. John F. Duffy accompanied the remains to St. Mary's Cemetery, where the committal services were conducted.

Abel Black, a life-long and highly respected citizen of the community, died early this morning following a short illness. He was the son of Daniel and Ellen Abernethy Black and in early life engaged in the cement business but following the death of his father he returned home to manage the farm. He has ever been known for his industriousness and generosity to all who needed help in any way, and his death will be a loss to his many friends. He leaves a son Walter of Troy, Alabama and three sisters, Mrs. Arsenia Crom of Ellenville and the Misses Mary and Jennie who resided with the deceased in the old homestead on the Rosendale road. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

William P. Low died at his home, No. 43 Clinton avenue, Saturday and was buried from his late residence this afternoon. The interment was in Wiltwyck cemetery. In Mr. Low's death the city has lost one of its oldest inhabitants and one of its best citizens. Mr. Low had lived at No. 43 Clinton avenue for upwards of fifty years, and was a good neighbor, an upright, honest and industrious citizen, and a man who by his character and habits had endeared himself to all who knew him. For many years Mr. Low drove a sprinkling wagon on the uptown streets and was always faithful to every trust reposed in him. He is survived by one son, Lewis. His wife and one daughter, Miss Jessie Low, a former school teacher in the city, predeceased him some time ago, and his son, Marcellus Low, died but a short time ago.

Byron S. Thornton died at his home on Washington avenue, Saugerties, about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning in the 53rd year of his age. Mr. Thornton was a much respected and highly esteemed resident of Saugerties, and his untimely death will be felt and mourned by the many friends that knew him. Mr. Thornton was formerly of Ellenville, and was well known here and was proprietor of the Orpheum Theater in Saugerties for the past five years, and had recently completed renovating the theater. Mr. Thornton was also lessee of the Maxwell Opera House on Main street, Saugerties, and was well known in theatrical circles. He is survived by a wife, six sons, Robert, of New York, Thomas, Eugene, William, George and Walter of Saugerties and four brothers and two sisters. Funeral services Wednesday morning, April 9, at 10 o'clock at late residence and 10:30 o'clock at St. Mary's Church, Saugerties, with requiem Mass for the repose of the soul, the Rev. Martin P. O'Gara officiating. Interment in Fantinekill Cemetery, Ellenville.

Matthew H. Roosa, a lifelong resident of Lyonsville and Rose Hill where he was born and always resided, died Wednesday, April 2. Mr. Roosa had been in failing health for some years, from cerebral hemmorrhage, which caused his sudden death. He was fifty-four years of age, a man of sterling character, a quiet unassuming citizen, who commanded the respect of all who knew him. He had been a professed Christian from his youth, and a member of the Lyonsville Reformed Dutch Church. The funeral services were held at his late home on Sunday, April 6, at eleven o'clock. Although the weather was very stormy, the house was filled with those who remembered him graciously. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Lemuel Davis who paid a fitting tribute to the deceased. His text was "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world," and "I go to prepare a place for you." From which he deduced the theme, "Our Eternal Contemporary." Mr. Roosa leaves to grieve his departure, a widow, Phoebe C. Davis Roosa, a brother, John Roosa, and a sister, Mrs. James H. Christiana.

High Water At Saugerties

The recent heavy rainfall of Saturday and Sunday together with the melting snow have made the waters of the Esopus creek at Saugerties rise rapidly; and from six to seven o'clock Monday morning there was cordwood, uprooted trees, telegraph poles, etc., going along with the swift current. The water at this time was at the highest point in recent years.

The water in the cove is the highest in some time and it is practically flooded. Much loss is thought to have been made due to the large quantities of cordwood passing down the creek. Standing on the shores in different places are men and boys with poles trying to gather wood from the swift current. The reservoir water is very cloudy and one can see the grains of mud, which is due to the heavy rainfall and melting snow of the recent heavy storm. Much talk is heard about the strength of the dam near the bridge at Saugerties and some express fears of its breaking.

PLUCK!

If you had some musical and mathematical ability, a family tradition of matrimony as your only course, an orphan's flattened purse, a horizon bounded by—the ten souls in your school—the two hundred in your village—and if the little-girl-who-was-you faced all these conflicts and difficulties, would she rail at fate, marry the first man who asked her, or work out a career?

Norwood Baker—that masculine-sounding name proves she's a real Southerner, you know—faced all this and worked out a career. The chronicle runs thus:

"For years I kept thoughts of earning my livelihood to myself, to avoid argument that a girl of the aristocratic Calhoun family could have only one career. A teacher discovered a talent for music. At the little college of music I became discouraged by methods all new to me—I taught at the handsome sum of thirty dollars a month, six of it going for transportation. Meanwhile, a wealthy gentleman, who had studied shorthand and typewriting, instructed me in return for legal work.

"That summer, I arranged to teach at the State Church orphanage for just my board and laundry. I left home at midnight, arriving at 8:30 a. m., to be told my place had been given to a young lady the night before. Imagine my disappointment! Though I was only nineteen, I was made a 'cottage mother' to supervise, alone, 15 children ranging from six to sixteen. The second week I had to entertain the governor's wife. Of course everything went wrong. The world seemed topsy-turvy.

"Next, I was to become social worker in a mill village. The day I should have commenced work the mill office assistant resigned. Would I substitute temporarily? Then, for the first time, the tide turned. The president asked me to stay in the office. From him, a fine executive, and the manager, a detail man, I got wonderful training. I found when it came to figures I could eat 'em up with glee.

"During the war I gloried in running a construction quartermaster's office for Uncle Sam, handling thousands of dollars daily. Now I have another 'man's job,' as treasurer, endowment fund manager and students' banker for Converse college, Spartanburg, S. C."

Though she modestly says this final success is due to "accident," others credit the power of her "smile, combined with firmness and decision you would not think of resisting."

Can Wed a Commoner

It has been customary for the heirs of the throne of the United Kingdom to marry either foreign princesses or members of the nobility, but the prince of Wales can lawfully marry a commoner without affecting his inheritance of the crown.

WISPS OF WISDOM

Expect disappointments, but avoid defeats.

Low-down practices keep a man low down.

A barber supplies conversation at cut rates.

Be a reformer if you will, but begin on yourself.

Those best can bear reproof who merit praise.

The biggest fool is the man who fools himself.

Any man who looks for trouble is blind to his own interests.

The man who has no faith in human nature is not to be trusted.

Education can never make up for the want of natural ability.

Probably the best housekeeping plan is not to mortgage the house.

It is never too early to begin looking on the bright side of life.

The great pleasure in life is doing what people say you cannot do.

Good humor is the blue sky in which the stars of talent brightly shine.

When the worst comes to the worst it is up to us to make the best of it.

Spread happiness and you are more of a success than many a millionaire.

Service is not so much a thing to talk about as it is a thing to perform.

Babies are born mimics; they use the same kind of language their mothers use.

It takes less effort to make good impressions than to remake bad impressions.

As a rule a young widow begins to get better looking about ten days after the late lamented moves to the cemetery.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Sometimes it is a good thing if it turns out bad.

Truth is mighty, but a great deal of it is suppressed.

He's a poor musician if he is unable to play upon your feelings.

A man should have a good excuse ready before committing a mean act.

Even the philosophical owner of a fireproof building is apt to insure it.

Many a man who follows the band wouldn't have the nerve to face the music.

Every woman thinks there is only one man in the world whose wife is altogether perfect.

Keep your eye on the humble man. Perhaps he is lying low for the purpose of humbling you.

Many a man's reputation for truthfulness goes lame when he begins to say things about himself.

Occasionally a man climbs so high that he foosts above everybody else—then he begins to get lonesome.

ROAD TO SUCCESS

Go to work and forget the clock.

Look to your job, but also look beyond it.

To be paid more, do more than you are paid for.

Command attention because of the attention you give your job.

Read everything you can buy, beg or borrow relative to your business.

Get ready for your promotion before you see the remotest possibility of being promoted.

Fall in love with your work, and if you can't find it in your heart to do so, try for another job.

Give your employer the benefit of your brains even if you think you are being paid only for the work of your hands.

ABOUT WOMEN ONLY

Thirty-five million women and girls buy something each day in some retail store in this country, observers say.

In the United States today there are 300,000 fewer women employed in domestic service than there was a decade ago.

The forerunner of the modern corset dates from the second century, when the fashionable women used them to compress the waist.

Because of the no-corset fad, woman's waist line has jumped first from the average twenty-one to twenty-three inches, and then up to a point between twenty-seven and twenty-eight inches.

"The Deacon's Honeymoon."

The members of the Esopus Church will present the entertainment "The Deacon's Honeymoon" at the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Gem Society. At the close of the entertainment ice cream will be for sale.

Would Include All

Generally speaking, when a woman reforms a man she is content to devote all her efforts to one individual. Men want to make a law that will include everybody and let it go at that.

Origin of Bride's Cake

The bride's cake of today is a relic of a Roman custom. At a Roman marriage the bride was expected to prep

St. Peter's Ends Good Season

Monday Evening at Local Court—Juniors Beat Defiance Five and Seniors Again Down Fleischmanns.

The St. Peter's basketball teams closed a very successful season at their home court Monday evening by adding another win apiece to their long lists of victories. The senior team beat the Fleischmanns outfit 38 to 33 and the junior squad downed the Defiance Five 59 to 39.

In the preliminary game P. Bruck scored 23 points for the scoring honors. Stumpf did the best work for the losers, making 15 points. The Junior Saints got an early start and were never in danger.

In the main contest the fast Fleischmanns combination extended the St. Peter's Lyceum quintet to the final minutes. The home club started in early to score and at half time led by a 21 to 7 tally. In the final round the Fleischmanns team did much better shooting but were unable to overcome the early lead.

Koenig again was the leading scorer with 19 points. Pultz did the best shooting for the losers, making 12 points.

Big Ball Is Rolling This Way

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Rochester, N. Y., April 8.—The world's largest baseball, seven feet three inches in diameter and weighing 350 pounds, arrived here Monday enroute to New York city for the opening game of the major league season. The big sphere had been rolled all the way from Chicago by students of the Citizens' Military Training camps to call attention to the government's citizenship military training camps, which will be in operation in July and August.

The ball will be rolled through 35 states, its itinerary including a visit to President Coolidge and takes in Detroit, Buffalo, Philadelphia, New Orleans, Los Angeles and Denver. About eighteen months will be required for the trip. It is planned to have the big ball reach Syracuse Wednesday, Utica Thursday, Schenectady Friday, Albany Saturday, and then down the Hudson river to New York, arriving in time for the opening baseball game.

After reaching New York the ball will be used extensively throughout the states of New York, New Jersey and Delaware to interest young men in the C. M. T. C. camps opening at Plattsburg and other army posts in July and August, according to an announcement by the Military Training Camps Association.

TWO KILLED WHEN TROLLEY CAR RUNS AWAY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Verona, Pa., April 8.—Two men were killed and more than a score of passengers injured, several seriously, early today when a street car in Verona became uncontrollable as it was speeding down a hill, jumped the tracks, shot through the front wall of a garage wrecking several automobiles.

The dead: Charles W. Bersel, 38, motorman; William Sherwood, 60.

ACCORD.

Accord, April 7.—Thema Coddington has been spending a few days with her parents.

On next Sunday evening, April 13, at 7:30 o'clock, there will be a special service at the Reformed Church. Prof. A. S. Goodrich, formerly of the New York State Sunday School Association, will show slides and give a lecture on the Oberammergau Passion Play. Mr. Goodrich is known among the people of the town of Rochester as an able and interesting speaker. The pictures which show the events of the last days of Our Lord Jesus upon earth among his friends and the enemies tell us of the love of the Saviour for men and His sacrifice for the sins of the world. Everyone is invited to attend this service.

Special services will be held at the Reformed Church during a part of Passion week, beginning on Palm Sunday, April 13. Services will be held on the following evenings: Sunday, April 13, Wednesday, April 16, Thursday, April 17 and on Friday, April 18. The services will be devotional in character, lasting one hour, with an appropriate message each night by the pastor.
